INTRODUCTION

This Field Educational Manual is designed to serve as a guide for students, faculty, field instructors and preceptors to serve as a “road map” for students to navigate the field course and as an aid to field instructors in planning, implementing and evaluating students’ experiences in their field placements. It outlines the expected nature and structure of the field experience by delineating responsibilities of all concerned parties, and specifying student learning objectives and competencies required for successful completion of the field instruction courses.

Field education constitutes a vital part of the social work curriculum. The field experience provides structured opportunities for students to integrate and apply their social work knowledge, values and skills under supervision to become competent generalist social workers and prepare them for professional practice. Students, field instructors, and preceptors are expected to read the Field Education Manual prior to entry into the field and raise any questions or concerns with the Field Education Practicum Coordinator.

Program changes may necessitate revisions of this manual over time. Students, faculty, field instructors and preceptors are encouraged to view this manual as a dynamic tool intended to meet the changing needs of the Social Work Program as it strives to offer an undergraduate social work program of the highest quality, as reflected by national accreditation through the Council on Social Work Education. Suggestions to improve its overall content are encouraged.

History of the MWSU Social Work Program

MWSU inaugurated the Social Work Program in September in 1969. The Council on Social Work Education granted the Social Work Program candidacy in 1977 and fully accredited the program in June 1979. The program has maintained its CSWE accreditation since that time. MWSU’s Social Work Program is the only accredited BSW program in Northwest Missouri.

Social Work Program: Mission, Goals and Objectives

In keeping with the University’s and School’s goals, the Social Work Program’s mission is to prepare undergraduate students for ethical and effective generalist social work practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, communities, and society in Northwest Missouri, and surrounding areas. Social work graduates will value human dignity, social and economic justice, and human and cultural diversity. They will competently serve individuals from diverse backgrounds including persons who are poor, vulnerable, and oppressed and work to reduce poverty, oppression, and discrimination by making government and social service agencies more just and responsive to consumer needs.

In addition to preparing competent social workers, MWSU’s Social Work Program is dedicated to offering its professional expertise and academic resources to support community efforts devoted to enhancing human well-being and social and economic justice.
Program Goals and Objectives

The MWSU Social Work Program’s primary goal is to provide a quality undergraduate curriculum and a professional social work foundation that produces competent generalist BSW graduates.

Goal 1: Graduates will demonstrate a broad, liberal arts perspective.

1.1: Graduates will develop knowledge and competencies in writing, math, communication, natural sciences, social sciences, humanities and physical education.

Goal 2: Graduates will demonstrate competencies to practice with individuals, families, small groups, organizations, communities, and society in changing social contexts. Accordingly, they will be 1) knowledgeable of social work’s history, values, ethics, theories; 2) be sensitive to issues regarding diversity, social and economic justice, social advocacy, social change, and populations-at-risk; and 3) effectively apply knowledge and skills related to human behavior in the social environment, social work practice, social work ethics, policy, practice evaluation and research, and professional and personal development in practice with diverse populations.

2.1: Apply critical thinking skills within the context of professional social work practice.

2.2: Graduates will understand the social work profession’s ethical values, principles, and standards.

2.3: Graduates will demonstrate the self-awareness, respect, and sensitivity needed to effectively work with all clients regardless of their age, class, color, culture, disability, ethnicity, family structure, gender, marital status, national origin, race, religion, and sexual orientation.

2.4: Graduates will understand the forms and mechanisms of oppression and discrimination that exist in society and will demonstrate advocacy and social change skills that advance social and economic justice.

2.5: Graduates will demonstrate knowledge of the social work profession’s history.

2.6: Graduates will understand and apply the knowledge of generalist social work practice with systems of all sizes.

2.7: Graduates will understand various theoretical frameworks supported by empirical evidence that help to explain and understand individual development and behavior across the life span and the interactions among individuals, and between individuals and families, groups, organizations, and communities.

2.8: Graduates will analyze and evaluate research studies, apply research findings to practice, and evaluate their own practice interventions.

2.9: Graduates will employ existing research findings to evaluate social welfare policies.
2.10: Graduates will use communication skills differentially across client populations, colleagues, and communities.

2.11: Graduates will use supervision and consultation appropriate to social work practice.

2.12: Graduates will apply social work values and skills to make organizations and communities more responsive to clients and community members, respectively.

Goal 3: The Social Work Program will provide professional expertise and resources to community efforts designed to promote human well-being and social and economic justice.

3.1: Faculty, students, and graduates will initiate and participate in collaborative community efforts designed to enhance the social functioning of client systems and eliminate social and economic injustice.

Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards

Purpose: Social Work Practice, Education, and Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards

The purpose of the social work profession is to promote human and community well-being. Guided by a person and environment construct, a global perspective, respect for human diversity, and knowledge based on scientific inquiry, social work’s purpose is actualized through its quest for social and economic justice in the prevention of conditions that limit human rights, the elimination of poverty, and the enhancement of the quality of life for all persons.

Social work educators serve the profession through their teaching, scholarship, and service. Social work education – at the baccalaureate, master’s, and doctoral levels – shapes the profession’s future through the education of competent professionals, the generation of knowledge, and the exercise of leadership within the professional community.

The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) uses the Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards (EPAS) to accredit baccalaureate and master’s-level social work programs. EPAS supports academic excellence by establishing thresholds for professional competence. It permits programs to use traditional and emerging models of curriculum design by balancing requirements that promote comparability across programs with a level of flexibility that encourages programs to differentiate.

EPAS describe four features of an integrated curriculum design: (1) program mission and goals; (2) explicit curriculum; (3) implicit curriculum; (4) assessment. The Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards are conceptually linked. Educational Policy describes each curriculum feature. Accreditation Standards (in italics) are derived from the Educational Policy and specify the requirements used to develop and maintain an accredited social work program at the baccalaureate (B) or master’s (M) level.
1. Program Mission and Goals

Educational Policy 1.0 – Program Mission and Goals
The mission and goals of each social work program address the profession’s purpose, are grounded in core professional values (EP 1.1), and are informed by context (EP 1.2).

Educational Policy 1.1 – Values
Service, social justice, the dignity and worth of the person, the importance of human relationships, integrity, competence, human rights, and scientific inquiry are among the core values of social work. These values underpin the explicit and implicit curriculum and frame the profession’s commitment to respect for all people and the quest for social and economic justice. These six value elements reflect the National Association of Social Workers Code of Ethics.

Educational Policy 1.2 – Program Context
Context encompasses the mission of the institution in which the program is located and the needs and opportunities associated with the setting. Programs are further influenced by their historical, political, economic, social, cultural, demographic, and global contexts and by the ways they elect to engage these factors. Additional factors include new knowledge, technology, and ideas that may have a bearing on contemporary and future social work education and practice.

Accreditation Standard 1.0 – Mission and Goals
The social work program’s mission and goals reflect the profession’s purpose and values and the program’s context.
1.0.1 The program submits its mission statement and describes how it is consistent with the profession’s purpose and values and the program’s context.
1.0.2 The program identifies its goals and demonstrates how they are derived from the program’s mission.

2. Explicit Curriculum

Educational Policy 2.0 – The Social Work Curriculum and Professional Practice
The explicit curriculum constitutes the program’s formal educational structure and includes the courses and the curriculum. Social work education is grounded in the liberal arts, which provide the intellectual basis for the professional curriculum and inform its design. The explicit curriculum achieves the program’s competencies through an intentional design that includes the foundation offered at the baccalaureate and master’s levels and the advanced curriculum offered at the master’s level. The BSW curriculum prepares its graduates for generalist practice through mastery of the core competencies. The MSW curriculum prepares its graduates for advanced practice through mastery of the core competencies augmented by knowledge and practice behaviors specific to a concentration.
Educational Policy 2.1 – Core Competencies
Competency-based education is an outcome performance approach to curriculum design. Competencies are measurable practice behaviors that are comprised of knowledge, values, and skills. The goal of the outcome approach is to demonstrate the integration and application of the competencies in practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. The ten core competencies are listed below [EP 2.1.1 – EP 2.1.10(d)], followed by a description of characteristic knowledge, values, skills, and the resulting practice behaviors that may be used to operationalize the curriculum and assessment methods. Programs may add competencies consistent with their missions and goals.

Educational Policy 2.1.1 – Identify as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly
Social workers serve as representatives of the profession, its mission, and its core values. They know the profession’s history. Social workers commit themselves to the profession’s enhancement and their own professional conduct and growth. Social workers:
- Advocate for client access to the services of social work;
- Practice personal reflection and self-correction to assure continual professional development;
- Attend to professional roles and boundaries;
- Demonstrate professional demeanor in behavior, appearance, and communication;
- Engage in career-long learning; and
- Use supervision and consultation.

Educational Policy 2.1.2 – Apply social work ethical principles to guide professional practice
Social workers have an obligation to conduct themselves ethically and to engage in ethical decision-making. Social workers are knowledgeable about the value base of the profession, its ethical standards, and relevant law. Social workers:
- Recognize and manage personal values in a way that allows professional values to guide practice;
- Tolerate ambiguity in resolving ethical conflicts; and
- Apply strategies of ethical reasoning to arrive at principled decisions.

Educational Policy 2.1.3 – Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments.
Social workers are knowledgeable about the principles of logic, scientific inquiry, and reasoned discernment. They use critical thinking augmented by creativity and curiosity. Critical thinking also requires the synthesis and communication of relevant information. Social workers:
- Distinguish, appraise, and integrate multiple sources of knowledge, including research based knowledge, and practice wisdom.
- Analyze models of assessment, prevention, intervention, and evaluation; and
• Demonstrate effective oral and written communication in working with individuals, families, groups, organizations, communities, and colleagues.

Educational Policy 2.1.4 – Engage diversity and difference in practice
Social workers understand how diversity characterizes and shapes the human experience and is critical to the formation of identity. The dimensions of diversity are understood as the intersection of multiple factors including age, class, color, culture, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, immigration status, political ideology, race, religion, sex, and sexual orientation. Social workers appreciate that, as a consequence of difference, a person’s life experiences may include oppression, poverty, marginalization, and alienation as well as privilege, power, and acclaim. Social workers:
• Recognize the extent to which a culture’s structures and values may oppress, marginalize, alienate, or create or enhance privilege and power;
• Gain sufficient self-awareness to eliminate the influence of personal biases and values in working with diverse groups;
• Recognize and communicate their understanding of the importance of difference in shaping life experiences; and
• View themselves as learners and engage those with whom they work as informants.

Educational Policy 2.1.5 – Advance human rights and social and economic justice
Each person, regardless of position in society, has basic human rights, such as freedom, safety, privacy, an adequate standard of living, health care, and education. Social workers recognize the global interconnections of oppression and are knowledgeable about theories of justice and strategies to promote human and civil rights. Social work incorporates social justice practices in organizations, institutions, and society to ensure that these basic human rights are distributed equitably and without prejudice. Social workers:
• Understand the forms and mechanisms of oppression and discrimination;
• Advocate for human rights and social and economic justice; and
• Engage in practices that advance social and economic justice.

Educational Policy 2.1.6 – Engage in research-informed practice and practice-informed research
Social workers use practice experience to inform research, employ evidence-based interventions, evaluate their own practice, and use research findings to improve practice, policy, and social service delivery. Social workers comprehend quantitative and qualitative research and understand scientific and ethical approaches to building knowledge. Social Workers:
• Use practice experience to inform scientific inquiry
• Use research evidence to inform practice.

Educational Policy 2.1.7 – Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment
Social workers are knowledgeable about human behavior across the life course; the range of social systems in which people live; and the ways social systems promote or deter people in maintaining or achieving health and well-being. Social workers apply theories and knowledge from the liberal arts to understand biological, social, cultural, and psychological, and spiritual development. Social workers:
• Utilize conceptual frameworks to guide the processes of assessment, intervention, and evaluation; and
• Critique and apply knowledge to understand person and environment.

Educational Policy 2.1.8 – Engage in policy practice to advance social and economic well-being and to deliver effective social work services.
Social work practitioners understand that policy affects service delivery, and they actively engage in policy practice. Social workers know the history and current structures of social policies and services’ the role of policy in service delivery; and the role of practice in policy development. Social workers:
• Analyze, formulate, and advocate for policies that advance social well-being; and
• Collaborate with colleagues and clients for effective policy action.

Educational Policy 2.1.9 – Respond to contexts that shape practice.
Social workers are informed, resourceful, and proactive in responding to evolving organizational, community, and societal contexts at all levels of practice. Social Workers recognize that the context of practice is dynamic, and use knowledge and skill to respond proactively. Social Workers:
• Continuously discover, appraise, and attend to changing locales, populations, scientific services; and
• Provide leadership in promoting sustainable changes in service delivery and practice to improve the quality of social services.

Educational policy 2.1.20 (a)-(d) – Engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities.
Professional practice involves the dynamic and interactive processes of engagement, assessment, intervention, and evaluation at multiple levels. Social workers have the knowledge and skills to practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Practice knowledge includes identifying, analyzing, and implementing evidence-based interventions designed to achieve client goals; using research and technological advances; evaluating program outcomes and practice effectiveness; developing, analyzing, and advocating, and providing leadership for policies and services; and promoting social and economic justice.

Educational Policy 2.1.10 (a) – Engagement
Social Workers:
• Substantively and effectively prepare for action with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities;
• Use empathy and other interpersonal skills; and
• Develop a mutually agreed-on focus of work and desired outcomes.

Educational Policy 2.1.10 (b) – Assessment
Social Workers:
• Collect, organize, and interpret client data;
• Assess client strength and limitations;
• Develop mutually agreed-on intervention goals and objectives; and
• Select appropriate intervention strategies.
Educational Policy 2.1.10 (c) – Intervention
Social Workers:
- Initiate actions to achieve organizational goals;
- Implement prevention interventions that enhance client capacities;
- Help clients resolve problems;
- Negotiate, mediate, and advocate for clients; and
- Facilitate transitions and endings.

Educational Policy 2.1.10 (d) – Evaluation
Social workers critically analyze, monitor, and evaluate interventions.

Educational Policy B2.2 – Generalist Practice
Generalist practice is grounded in the liberal arts and the person and environment construct. To promote human and social well-being, generalist practitioners use a range of prevention and intervention methods in their practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. The generalist practitioner identifies with the social work profession and applies ethical principles and critical thinking in practice. Generalist practitioners incorporate diversity in their practice and advocate for human rights and social and economic justice. They recognize, support, and build on the strengths and resiliency of all human beings. They engage in research-informed practice and are proactive in responding to the impact of context on professional practice. BSW practice incorporates all of the core competencies.

Educational Policy M2.2 – Advanced Practice
Advanced practitioners refine and advance the quality of social work practice and that of the larger social work profession. They synthesize and apply a broad range of interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary knowledge and skills. In areas of specialization, advanced practitioners assess, intervene, and evaluate to promote human and social well-being. To do so they suit each action to the circumstances at hand, using the discrimination learned through experience and self-improvement. Advanced practice incorporates all of the core competencies augmented by knowledge and practice behaviors specific to a concentration.

Educational Policy 2.3 – Signature Pedagogy: Field Education
Signature pedagogy represents the central form of instruction and learning in which a profession socializes its students to perform the role of practitioner. Professionals have pedagogical norms with which they connect and integrate theory and practice. In social work, the signature pedagogy is field education. The intent of field education is to connect the theoretical and conceptual contribution of the classroom with the practical world of the practice setting. It is a basic precept of social work education that the two interrelated components of curriculum – classroom and field – are of equal importance within the curriculum, and each contributes to the development of the requisite competencies of professional practice. Field education is systematically designed, supervised, coordinated, and evaluated based on criteria by which students demonstrate the achievement of program competencies.
Accreditation Standard B2.0 – Curriculum
The 10 Core competencies are used to design the professional curriculum. The program
B2.0.1 Discusses how its mission and goals are consistent with generalist practice as defined in EP B2.2.
B2.0.2 Identifies its competencies consistent with EP 2.1 through 2.1.10 (d).
B2.0.3 Provides an operational definition for each of its competencies used in its curriculum design and its assessment [EP 2.1 through 2.1.10 (d)].
B2.0.4 Provides a rationale for its formal curriculum design demonstrating how it is used to develop a coherent and integrated curriculum for both classroom and field (EP 2.0).
B2.0.5 Describes and explains how its curriculum content (knowledge, values, and skills) implements the operational definition of each of its competencies.

Accreditation Standard M2.0 – Curriculum
The 10 core competencies are used to design the foundation and advanced curriculum. The advanced curriculum builds on and applies the core competencies in an area(s) of concentration. The program:
M2.0.1 Identifies its concentration(s) (EP M2.2)
M2.0.2 Discusses how its mission and goals are consistent with advanced practice (EP M2.2).
M2.0.3 Identifies its program competencies consistent with EP 2.1 through 2.1.10 (d) and EP M2.2
M2.0.4 Provides an operational definition for each of the competencies used in its curriculum design and its assessment [EP 2.1 through 2.1.10 (d); EP M2.2].
M2.0.5 Provides a rationale for its formal curriculum design (foundation and advanced), demonstrating how it is used to develop a coherent and integrated curriculum for both classroom and field (EP 2.0).
M2.0.6 Describes and explains how its curriculum content (relevant theories and conceptual frameworks, values, and skills) implements the operational definition of each of its competencies.

Accreditation Standard 2.1 – Field Education
The program discusses how its field education program:
2.1.1 Connects the theoretical and conceptual contribution of the classroom with the practice setting, fostering the implementation of evidence-informed practice.
B2.1.2 Provides generalist practice opportunities for students to demonstrate the core competencies.
M2.1.2 Provides advanced practice opportunities for students to demonstrate the program’s competencies.
2.1.3 Provides a minimum of 400 hours of field education for baccalaureate programs and 900 hours for master’s programs.
2.1.4 Admits only those students who have met the program’s specified criteria for field education.
2.1.5 Specifies policies, criteria, and procedures for selecting field settings’ placing and monitoring students; maintaining field liaison contacts with field education settings; and evaluating student learning and field setting effectiveness congruent with the program’s competencies.
2.1.6 Specifies the credentials and practice experience of its field instructors necessary to design field learning opportunities for students to demonstrate program competencies. Field instructors for baccalaureate students hold a baccalaureate or master’s degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program. Field instructors for master’s students hold a master’s degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program. For cases in which a field instructor does not hold a CSWE-accredited social work degree, the program assumes responsibility for reinforcing a social work perspective and describes how this is accomplished.

2.1.7 Provides orientation, field instruction training, and continuing dialog with field education settings and field instructors.

2.1.8 Develops policies regarding field placements in an organization in which the student is also employed. To ensure the role of student as learner, student assignments and field education supervision are not the same as those of the student’s employment.

3. Implicit Curriculum

Educational Policy 3.0 – Implicit Curriculum: The Learning Environment
The implicit curriculum refers to the educational environment in which the explicit curriculum is presented. It is composed of the following elements: the program’s commitment to diversity; admissions policies and procedures; advisement, retention, and termination policies; student participation in governance; faculty; administrative structure; and resources. The implicit curriculum is manifested through policies that are fair and transparent in substance and implementation, the qualifications of the faculty, and the adequacy of resources. The culture of human interchange; the spirit of inquiry; the support for difference and diversity; and the values and priorities in the educational environment, including the field setting, inform the student’s learning and development. The implicit curriculum is as important as the explicit curriculum in shaping the professional character and competence of the program’s graduates. Heightened awareness of the importance of the implicit curriculum promotes an educational culture that is congruent with values of the profession.

Educational Policy 3.1 – Diversity
The program’s commitment to diversity – including age, class, color, culture, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, immigration status, political ideology, race, religion, sex, and sexual orientation – is reflected in its learning environment (institutional setting; selection of field education settings and their clientele; composition of program advisory or field committees; educational and social resources; resource allocation; program leadership; speaker series, seminars, and special programs; support groups; research and other initiatives; and the demographic make-up of its faculty, staff, and student body).

Accreditation Standard 3.1 – Diversity
3.1.1 The program describes the specific and continuous efforts it makes to provide a learning environment in which respect for all persons and understanding of diversity and difference are practiced.

3.1.2 The program describes how its learning environment models affirmation and respect for diversity and difference.
3.1.3  The program discusses specific plans to improve the learning environment to affirm and support persons with diverse identities.

Educational Policy 3.2 – Student Development
Educational preparation and commitment to the profession are essential qualities in the admission and development of students for professional practice. To promote the social work education continuum, BSW graduates admitted to the MSW programs are presented with an articulated pathway toward a concentration. Student participation in formulating and modifying policies affecting academic and student affairs are important for the student’s professional development.

Accreditation Standard 3.2 – Student Development; Admissions; Advisement, Retention, and Termination; and Student Participation

Admissions

B3.2.1 The Program identifies the criteria it uses for admission.

M3.2.1 The program identifies the criteria it uses for admission. The criteria for admission to the master’s program just include an earned bachelor’s degree from a college or university accredited by a recognized regional accrediting association.

3.2.2 The program describes the process and procedures for evaluating applications and notifying applicants of the decision and any contingent conditions associated with admission.

M3.2.3 BSW graduates entering MSW programs are not to repeat what has been mastered in their BSW programs. MSW programs describe the policies and procedures used for awarding advanced standing. These policies and procedures should be explicit and unambiguous. Advanced standing is awarded only to graduates holding degrees from baccalaureate social work programs accredited by CSWE, those recognized through its International Social Work Degree Recognition and Evaluation Service, or covered under a memorandum of understanding with international social work accreditors.

3.2.4 The program describes its policies and procedures concerning the transfer of credits.

3.2.5 The program submits its written policy indicating that it does not grant social work course credit for life experience or previous work experience. The program documents how it informs applicants and other constituents of this policy.

Advisement, retention, and termination

3.2.6 The program describes its academic and professional advising policies and procedures. Professional advising is provided by social work program faculty, staff, or both.

3.2.7 The program spells out how it informs students of its criteria for evaluating their academic and professional performance, including policies and procedures for grievance.

3.2.8 The program submits its policies and procedures for terminating a student’s enrollment in the social work program for reasons of academic and professional performance.
Student Participation
3.2.9 The program describes its policies and procedures specifying students’ rights and responsibilities to participate in formulating and modifying policies affecting academic and student affairs.
3.2.10 The program demonstrates how it provides opportunities and encourages students to organize in their interests.

Educational Policy 3.3 – Faculty
Faculty qualifications, including experience related to the program’s competencies, and an appropriate student-faculty ratio are essential for developing an educational environment that promotes, emulates, and teaches students the knowledge, values, and skills expected of professional social workers. Through their teaching, scholarship, and service – as well as their interactions with one another, administration, students, and community – the program’s faculty models the behavior and values expected of professional social workers.

Accreditation Standard 3.3 – Faculty
3.3.1 The program identifies each full and part-time social work faculty member and discusses her/his qualifications, competence, expertise in social work education and practice, and years of service to the program. Faculty who teach social work practice courses have a master’s degree in social work from a CSWE – accredited program and at least two years of social work practice experience.
3.3.2 The Program discusses how faculty size is commensurate with the number and type of curricular offerings in class and field; class size; number of students; and the faculty’s teaching, scholarly, and service responsibilities. To carry out the ongoing functions of the program, the full-time equivalent faculty-to-student ratio is usually 1:25 for baccalaureate programs and 1:12 for master’s programs.

B3.3.3 The baccalaureate social work program identifies no fewer than two full-time faculty assigned to the program, with full-time appointment in social work, and whose principal assignment is to the baccalaureate program. The majority and no fewer than two of the full-time faculty has either a master’s degree in social work from a CSWE – accredited program, with a doctoral degree preferred, or a baccalaureate degree in social work from a CSWE – accredited program and a doctoral degree preferably in social work.
M3.3.3 The master’s social work program identifies no fewer than six full-time faculty with master’s degrees in social work form a CSWE – accredited program and whose principal assignment is to the master’s program. The majority of the full-time master’s social work program faculty has a master’s degree in social work and a doctoral degree preferable in social work.
3.3.4 The program describes its faculty workload policy and discusses how the policy supports the achievement of institutional priorities and the program’s mission and goals.
3.3.5 Faculty demonstrate ongoing professional development as teachers, scholars, and practitioners through dissemination of research and scholarship, exchanges with external constituencies such as practitioners and agencies, and through other professionally relevant creative activities that support the achievement of institutional priorities and the program’s mission and goals.
3.3.6 The program describes how its faculty models the behavior and values of the profession in the program’s educational environment.
Educational Policy 3.4 – Administrative Structure
Social work faculty and administrators, based on their education, knowledge, and skills, are best suited to make decisions regarding the delivery of social work education. They exercise autonomy in designing an administrative and leadership structure, developing curriculum, and formulating and implementing policies that support the education of competent social workers.

Accreditation Standard 3.4 – Administrative Structure

National Association of Social Workers

CODE OF ETHICS

Preamble

The primary mission of the social work profession is to enhance human well-being and help meet the basic human needs of all people, with particular attention to the needs and empowerment of people who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty. A historic and defining feature of social work is the profession’s focus on individual well-being in a social context and the well-being of society. Fundamental to social work is attention to the environmental forces that create, contribute to, and address problems in living.

Social workers promote social justice and social change with and on behalf of clients. “Clients” is used inclusively to refer to individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Social workers are sensitive to cultural and ethnic diversity and strive to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice. These activities may be in the form of direct practice, community organizing, supervision, consultation, administration, advocacy, social and political action, policy development and implementation, education, and research and evaluation. Social workers seek to enhance the capacity of people to address their own needs. Social workers seek to promote the responsiveness of organizations, communities, and other social institutions to individuals’ needs and social problems.
The mission of the social work profession is rooted in a set of core values. These core values, embraced by social workers throughout the profession’s history, are the foundation of social work’s unique purpose and perspective:
- Service
- Social justice
- Dignity and worth of the person
- Importance of human relationships
- Integrity
- Competence

This constellation of core values reflects what is unique to the social work profession. Core values, and the principles that flow from them, must be balanced within the context and complexity of the human experience.

Purpose of the NASW Code of Ethics

Professional ethics are at the core of social work. The profession has an obligation to articulate its basic values, ethical principles, and ethical standards. The NASW Code of Ethics sets forth these values, principles, and standards to guide social workers’ conduct.

The Code is relevant to all social workers and social work students, regardless of their professional functions, the settings in which they work, or the populations they serve.

The NASW Code of Ethics serves six purposes:

1. The Code identifies core values on which social work’s mission is based.

2. The Code summarizes broad ethical principles that reflect the profession’s core values and establishes a set of specific ethical standards that should be used to guide social work practice.

3. The Code is designed to help social workers identify relevant considerations when professional obligations conflict or ethical uncertainties arise.

4. The Code provides ethical standards to which the general public can hold the social work profession accountable.

5. The Code socializes practitioners new to the field to social work’s mission, values, ethical principles, and ethical standards.

6. The Code articulates standards that the social work profession itself can use to assess whether social workers have engaged in unethical conduct. NASW has formal procedures to adjudicate ethics complaints filed against its members. In subscribing to this Code, social workers are required to cooperate in its implementation, participate in NASW adjudication proceedings, and abide by any NASW disciplinary rulings or sanctions based on it.
For information on NASW adjudication procedures, see NASW Procedures for the Adjudication of Grievances.

The Code offers a set of values, principles, and standards to guide decision making and conduct when ethical issues arise. It does not provide a set of rules that prescribe how social workers should act in all situations. Specific applications of the Code must take into account the context in which it is being considered and the possibility of conflicts among the Code’s values, principles, and standards. Ethical responsibilities flow from all human relationships, from the personal and familial to the social and professional.

Further, the NASW Code of Ethics does not specify which values, principles, and standards are most important and ought to outweigh others in instances when they conflict. Reasonable differences of opinion can and do exist among social workers with respect to the ways in which values, ethical principles, and ethical standards should be rank ordered when they conflict. Ethical decision-making in a given situation must apply the informed judgment of the individual social worker and should also consider how the issues would be judged in a peer review process where the ethical standards of the profession would be applied.

Ethical decision-making is a process. There are many instances in social work where simple answers are not available to resolve complex ethical issues. Social workers should take into consideration all the values, principles and standards in the Code that are relevant to any situation in which ethical judgment is warranted. Social workers’ decisions and actions should be consistent with the spirit as well as the letter of this Code.

In addition to this Code, there are many other sources of information about ethical thinking that may be useful. Social workers should consider ethical theory and principles generally, social work theory and research, laws, regulations, agency policies, and other relevant codes of ethics, recognizing that among codes of ethics social workers should consider the NASW Code of Ethics as their primary source. Social workers also should be aware of the impact on ethical decision making of their clients’ and their own personal values and cultural and religious beliefs and practices. They should be aware of any conflicts between personal and professional values and deal with them responsibly. For additional guidance social workers should consult the relevant literature on professional ethics and ethical decision-making and seek appropriate consultation when faced with ethical dilemmas. This may involve consultation with an agency-based or social work organization’s ethics committee, a regulatory body, knowledgeable colleagues, supervisors, or legal counsel.

Instances may arise when social workers’ ethical obligations conflict with agency policies or relevant laws or regulations. When such conflicts occur, social workers must make a responsible effort to resolve the conflict in a manner that is consistent with the values, principles, and standards expressed in this Code. If a reasonable resolution of the conflict does not appear possible, social workers should seek proper consultation before making a decision.
The NASW Code of Ethics is to be used by NASW and by individuals, agencies, organizations, and bodies (such as licensing and regulatory boards, professional liability insurance providers, courts of law, agency boards of directors, government agencies, and other professional groups) that choose to adopt it or use it as a frame of reference. Violation of standards in this Code does not automatically imply legal liability or violation of the law. Such a determination can only be made in the context of legal and judicial proceedings. Alleged violations of the Code would be subject to a peer review process. Such processes are generally spate from legal or administrative procedures and insulated from legal review or proceedings to allow the profession to counsel and discipline its own members.

A code of ethics cannot guarantee ethical behavior. Moreover, a code of ethics cannot resolve all ethical issues or disputes or capture the richness and complexity involved in striving to make responsible choices within a moral community. Rather, a code of ethics sets forth values, ethical principles, and ethical standards to which professionals aspire and by which their actions can be judged. Social workers’ ethical behavior should result from their personal commitment to engage in ethical practice. The NASW Code of Ethics reflects the commitment of all social workers to uphold the profession’s values and to act ethically. Principles and standards must be applied by individuals of good character who discern moral questions, and in good faith, seek to make reliable ethical judgments.

Ethical Principles

The following broad ethical principles are based on social work’s core values of service, social justice, dignity and worth of the person, importance of human relationships, integrity, and competence. These principles set forth ideals to which all social workers should aspire.

These activities seek to promote sensitivity to and knowledge about oppression and cultural and ethnic diversity. Social workers strive to ensure access to needed information, services, and resources; equality of opportunity; and meaningful participation in decision making for all people.

Social workers respect the inherent dignity and worth of the person.

Social workers treat each person in a caring and respectful fashion, mindful of individual differences and cultural and ethnic diversity. Social workers promote clients’ socially responsible self-determination. Social workers seek to enhance clients’ capacity and opportunity to change and to address their own needs. Social workers are cognizant of their dual responsibility to clients and to the border society. They seek to resolve conflicts between clients’ interests and the broader society’s interests in a socially responsible manner consistent with the values, ethical principles, and ethical standards of the profession.

Value:
Importance of Human Relationships

Ethical Principle:
Social workers recognize the central importance of human relationships.

Social workers understand that relationships between and among people are an important vehicle for change. Social workers engage people as partners in the helping process. Social workers seek to strengthen relationships among people in a purposeful effort to promote, restore, maintain, and enhance the well-being of individuals, families, social groups, organizations, and communities.

Value:
Integrity

Ethical Principle:
Social workers behave in a trustworthy manner.

Social workers are continually aware of the profession’s mission, values, ethical principles, and ethical standards and practice in a manner consistent with them. Social workers act honestly and responsibly and promote ethical practices on the part of the organizations with which they are affiliated.

Value:
Competence

Ethical Principle:
Social workers practice within their areas of competence and develop and enhance their professional expertise.

Social workers continually strive to increase their professional knowledge and skills and apply them in practice. Social workers should aspire to contribute to the knowledge base of the profession.
Ethical Standards

The following ethical standards are relevant to the professional activities of all social workers. These standards concern (1) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to clients, (2) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to colleagues, (3) social workers’ ethical responsibilities in practice settings, (4) social workers’ ethical responsibilities as professionals, (5) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to the social work profession, and (6) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to the broader society.

Some of the standards that follow are enforceable guidelines for professional conduct, and some are aspirational. The extent to which each standard is enforceable is a matter of professional judgment to be exercised by those responsible for reviewing alleged violations of ethical standards.

1. Social Workers’ Ethical Responsibilities to Clients

1.01 Commitment to Clients

Social workers’ primary responsibility is to promote the well-being of clients. In general, clients’ interests are primary. However, social workers’ responsibility to the larger society or specific legal obligations may on limited occasions supersede the loyalty owed clients, and clients should be so advised. (Examples include when a social worker is required by law to report that a client has abused a child or has threatened to harm self or others).

1.02 Self-Determination

Social workers respect and promote the right of clients to self-determination and assist clients in their efforts to identify and clarify their goals. Social workers may limit clients’ right to self-determination when, in the social workers’ professional judgment, clients’ actions or potential actions pose a serious, foreseeable, and imminent risk to themselves or others.

1.03 Informed Consent

(a) Social workers should provide services to clients only in the context of a professional relationship based, when appropriate, on valid informed consent. Social workers should use clear and understandable language to inform clients of the purpose of the services, risks related to the services, limits to services because of the requirements of a third-party payer, relevant costs, reasonable alternatives, clients’ right to refuse or withdraw consent, and the time frame covered by the consent. Social workers should provide clients with an opportunity to ask questions.

(b) In instances when clients are not literate or have difficulty understanding the primary language used in the practice setting, social workers should take steps to ensure clients’ comprehension. This may include providing clients with a detailed verbal explanation or arranging for a qualified interpreter or translator whenever possible.
(c) In instances when clients lack the capacity to provide informed consent, social workers should protect clients’ interests by seeking permission from an appropriate third party, informing clients consistent with the clients’ level of understanding. In such instances social workers should seek to ensure that the third party acts in a manner consistent with clients’ wishes and interests. Social workers should take reasonable steps to enhance such clients’ ability to give informed consent.

(d) In instances when clients are receiving services involuntarily, social workers should provide information about the nature and extent of services and about the extent of clients’ right to refuse service.

(e) Social workers who provide services via electronic media, (such as computer, telephone, radio and television) should inform recipients of the limitations and risks associated with such services.

(f) Social workers should obtain clients’ informed consent before audio taping or videotaping clients or permitting observation of services to clients by a third party.

1.04 Competence

(a) Social workers should provide services and represent themselves as competent only within the boundaries of their education, training, license, certification, consultation received, supervised experience, or other relevant professional experience.

(b) Social workers should provide services in substantive areas or use intervention techniques or approaches that are new to them only after engaging in appropriate study, training, consultation, and supervision from people who are competent in those interventions or techniques.

(c) When generally recognized standards do not exist with respect to an emerging area of practice, social workers should exercise careful judgment and take responsible steps (including appropriate education, research, training, consultation, and supervision) to ensure the competence of their work and to protect clients from harm.

1.05 Cultural Competence and Social Diversity

(a) Social workers should understand culture and its function in human behavior and society, recognizing the strengths that exist in all cultures.

(b) Social workers should have a knowledge base of their clients’ cultures and be able to demonstrate competence in the provision of services that are sensitive to clients’ cultures and to differences among people and cultural groups.

(c) Social workers should obtain education about and seek to understand the nature of social diversity and oppression with respect to race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, marital status, political belief, religion, immigration status, and mental or physical disability.

1.06 Conflicts of Interest

(a) Social workers should be alert to and avoid conflicts of interest that interfere with the exercise of professional discretion and impartial judgment. Social workers should inform clients when a real or potential conflict of interest arises and take reasonable steps to resolve the issue in a manner that makes the clients’ interests primary and protects clients’ interests to the greatest extent possible. In some cases, protecting clients’ interests may require termination of the professional relationship with proper referral of the client.

(b) Social workers should not take unfair advantage of any professional relationship or exploit others to further their personal, religious, political, or business interests.

(c) Social workers should not engage in dual or multiple relationships with clients or former clients in which there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the client. In instances when dual or multiple relationships are unavoidable, social workers should take steps to protect clients and are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries. (Dual or multiple relationships occur when social workers relate to clients in more than one relationship whether professional, social, or business. Dual or multiple relationships can occur simultaneously or consecutively).

(d) When social workers provide services to two or more people who have a relationship with each other (for example, couples, family members), social workers should clarify with all parties which individuals will be considered clients and the nature of social workers’ professional obligations to the various individuals who are receiving services. Social workers who anticipate a conflict of interest among the individuals receiving services or who anticipate having to perform in potentially conflicting roles (for example, when a social worker is asked to testify in a child custody dispute or divorce proceedings involving clients) should clarify their role with parties involved and take appropriate action to minimize any conflict of interest.

1.07 Privacy and Confidentiality

(a) Social workers should respect clients’ right to privacy. Social workers should not solicit private information from clients unless it is essential to providing services or conducting social work evaluation or research. Once private information is shared, standards of confidentiality apply.

(b) Social workers may disclose confidential information when appropriate with valid consent from a client or a person legally authorized to consent on behalf of a client.

(c) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of all information obtained in the course of professional service, except for compelling professional reasons. The general expectation that social workers will keep information confidential that does not apply when disclosure is necessary to prevent serious, foreseeable, and imminent harm to a client or other identifiable person or when laws or regulations require disclosure without a client’s consent. In all instances, social workers should disclose the least amount of confidential information necessary to achieve the desired purpose; only information that is directly relevant to the purpose for which the disclosure is made should be revealed.

(d) Social workers should inform clients, to the extent possible, about the disclosure of confidential information and the potential consequences, when feasible before the disclosure is made. This applies whether social workers disclose confidential information on the basis of a legal requirement or client consent.

(e) Social workers should discuss with clients and other interested parties the nature of confidentiality and limitations of clients’ right to confidentiality. Social workers should review with clients’ circumstances where confidential information may be requested and where disclosure of confidential information may be legally required. This discussion should occur as soon as possible in the social worker – client relationship and as needed throughout the course of the relationship.

(f) When social workers provide counseling services to families, couples, or groups, social workers should seek agreement among the parties involved concerning each individual’s right to confidentiality and obligation to preserve the confidentiality of information shared by others. Social workers should inform participants in family, couples, or group counseling that social workers cannot guarantee that all participants will honor such agreements.

(g) Social workers should inform clients involved in family, couples, marital, or group counseling of the social worker’s, employer’s, and agency’s policy concerning the social worker’s disclosure of confidential information among the parties involved in the counseling.

(h) Social workers should not disclose confidential information to third-party payers unless clients have authorized such disclosure.

(i) Social workers should not discuss confidential information in any setting unless privacy can be ensured. Social workers should not discuss confidential information in public or semipublic areas such as hallways, waiting rooms, elevators, and restaurants.

(j) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of clients during legal proceedings to the extent permitted by law. When a court of law or other legally authorized body orders social workers to disclose confidential or privileged information without a client’s consent and such disclosure could cause harm to the client, social workers should request that the court withdraw the order or limit the order as narrowly as possible or maintain the records under seal, unavailable to public inspection.

(k) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of clients when responding to request from members of the media.
(l) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of clients’ written and electronic records and other sensitive information. Social workers should take reasonable steps to ensure that clients’ records are stored in a secure location and that clients’ records are not available to others who are not authorized to have access.

(m) Social workers should take precautions to ensure and maintain the confidentiality of information transmitted to other parties through the use of computers, electronic mail, facsimile machines, telephones and telephone answering machines, and other electronic or computer technology. Disclosure of identifying information should be avoided whenever possible.

(n) Social workers should transfer or dispose of clients’ records in a manner that protects clients’ confidentiality and is consistent with state statutes governing records and social work licensure.

(o) Social workers should take reasonable precautions to protect client confidentiality in the event of the social worker’s termination of practice, incapacitation, or death.

(p) Social workers should not disclose identifying information when discussing clients for teaching or training purposes unless the client has consented to disclosure of confidential information.

(q) Social workers should not disclose identifying information when discussing clients with consultants unless the client has consented to disclosure of confidential information or there is a compelling need for such disclosure.

(r) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of deceased clients consistent with preceding standards.

1.08 Access to Records

(a) Social workers should provide clients with reasonable access to records concerning the clients. Social workers who are concerned that clients’ access to their records could cause serious misunderstanding or harm to the client should provide assistance in interpreting the records and consultation with the client regarding the records. Social workers should limit clients’ access to their records, or portions of their records, only in exceptional circumstances when there is compelling evidence that such access would cause serious harm to the client. Both clients’ requests and the rationale for withholding some or all of the record should be documented in clients’ files.

(b) When providing clients with access to their records, social workers should take steps to protect the confidentiality of other individuals identified or discussed in such records.
1.09 Sexual Relationships

(a) Social workers should under no circumstances engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with current clients, whether such contact is consensual or forced.

(b) Social workers should not engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with clients’ relatives or other individuals with whom clients maintain a close personal relationship when there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the client. Sexual activity or sexual contact with clients’ relatives or other individuals with whom clients maintain a personal relationship has the potential to be harmful to the client and may make it difficult for the social worker and client to maintain appropriate professional boundaries. Social workers – not their clients, their clients’ relatives, or other individuals with whom the client maintains a personal relationship – assume the full burden for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries.

(c) Social workers should not engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with former clients because of the potential for harm to the client. If the social workers engage in conduct contrary to this prohibition or claim that an exception to this prohibition is warranted because of extraordinary circumstances, it is social workers – not their clients – who assume the full burden of demonstrating that the former client has not been exploited, coerced, or manipulated, intentionally or unintentionally.

(d) Social workers should not provide clinical services to individuals with whom they have had a prior sexual relationship. Providing clinical services to a former sexual partner has the potential to be harmful to the individual and is likely to make it difficult for the social worker and the individual to maintain appropriate professional boundaries.

1.10 Physical Contact

Social workers should not engage in physical contact with clients when there is a possibility of psychological harm to the client as a result of the contact (such as cradling or caressing clients). Social workers who engage in appropriate physical contact with clients are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries that govern such physical contact.

1.11 Sexual Harassment

Social workers should not sexually harass clients. Sexual harassment includes sexual advances, sexual solicitation, requests for sex- usual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.
1.12 Derogatory Language

Social workers should not use derogatory language in their written or verbal communications to or about clients. Social workers should use accurate and respectful language in all communications to and about clients.

1.13 Payment for Services

(a) When setting fees, social workers should ensure that the fees are fair, reasonable, and commensurate with the services performed. Consideration should be given to clients’ ability to pay.

(b) Social workers should avoid accepting goods or services from clients as payment for professional services. Bartering arrangements, particularly involving services, create the potential for conflicts of interest, exploitation, and inappropriate boundaries in social workers’ relationships with clients. Social workers should explore and may participate in bartering only in very limited circumstances when it can be demonstrated that such arrangements are an accepted practice among professionals in the local community, considered to be essential for the provision of services, negotiated without coercion, and entered into at the clients’ initiative and with the clients’ informed consent. Social workers who accept goods or services from clients as payment for professional services assume the full burden of demonstrating that this arrangement will not be detrimental to the client or the professional relationship.

(c) Social workers should not solicit a private fee or other remuneration for providing services to clients who are entitled to such available services through social workers’ employer or agency.

1.14 Clients Who Lack Decision-Making Capacity

When social workers act on behalf of clients who lack the capacity to make informed decisions, social workers should take reasonable steps to safeguard the interests and rights of those clients.

1.15 Interruption of Services

Social workers should make reasonable efforts to ensure continuity of services in the event that services are interrupted by factors such as unavailability, relocation, illness, disability, or death.

1.16 Termination of Services

(a) Social workers should terminate services to clients and professional relationships with them when such services and relationships are no longer required or no longer serve the clients’ needs or interests.
(b) Social workers should take reasonable steps to avoid abandoning clients who are still in need of services. Social workers should withdraw services precipitously only under unusual circumstances, giving careful consideration to all factors in the situation and taking care to minimize possible adverse effects. Social workers should assist in making appropriate arrangements for continuation of services when necessary.

(c) Social workers in fee-for-service settings may terminate services to clients who are not paying an overdue balance if the financial contractual arrangements have been made clear to the client, if the client does not pose an imminent danger to self or others, and if the clinical and other consequences of the current nonpayment have been addressed and discussed with the client.

(d) Social workers should not terminate services to pursue a social, financial, or sexual relationship with a client.

(e) Social workers who anticipate the termination or interruption of services to clients should notify clients promptly and seek the transfer, referral, or continuation of services in relation to the clients’ needs and preferences.

(f) Social workers who are leaving an employment setting should inform clients of appropriate options for the continuation of services and of the benefits and risks of the options.

2. Social Workers’ Ethical Responsibilities to Colleagues

2.01 Respect

(a) Social workers should treat colleagues with respect and should represent accurately and fairly the qualifications, views, and obligations of colleagues.

(b) Social workers should avoid unwarranted negative criticism of colleagues in communications with clients or with other professionals. Unwarranted negative criticism may include demeaning comments that refer to colleagues’ level of competence or to individuals’ attributes such as race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, marital status, political belief, religion, immigration status, and mental or physical disability.

(c) Social workers should cooperate with social work colleagues and with colleagues of other professions when such cooperation serves the well-being of clients.

2.02 Confidentiality

SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM

PROCEDURES FOR ADMISSION TO FIELD EDUCATION

A sincere effort will be made to place students in the agencies of their choice or one that is compatible with their interests. The Coordinator of Field Education, in consultation with students’ faculty advisor, is responsible for making the final decision regarding students’ placements. The application process is as follows.

1. Students scheduled to enter Field Education will be required to submit an Application for Field Education to the Field Coordinator at least one to two semesters prior to entering field. Field application packets will also contain the Acknowledgement of Risk in the Field Practicum and Acknowledgement of Policy and Procedures/Code of Conduct forms. Students are to review these documents, sign and date and return the original to the Field Coordinator when he/she submit the field application. Students not submitting applications by the indicated deadline will jeopardize timely entry into field.

Admission Criteria

Applicants must meet the following criteria in order to be admitted to Field:

- Have been admitted to the major;
  Have a C or better in all social work prefixed courses;
- Have a 2.5 overall GPA;
- Have completed all core social work courses prior to entry into field;
- Have completed volunteer experience.

Students applying for entry into field must also complete:

- Two individual interviews with the Field Coordinator;
- Interviews with potential field instructors. Identified field instructors will be referred by the Field Coordinator.
- Return student interview forms to the Field Coordinator by the pre-determined due date (The due date for submission of student interview forms will be written on the form).

Students who do not follow the above outlined criteria will be delayed entry into field for the semester the student is applying for. Additional requirements may be expected if individual situations so dictate. Example of situations which may result in additional requirements are: questionable fit with the social work profession, a pattern of inappropriate or immature behavior, convictions for criminal behavior and/or violations of the Student Conduct Code and/or the Student Academic Misconduct Code and/or the Social Work Student Conduct Code, a pattern of disruptive/problematic behavior, addictive behavior, and psychological/mental instability.

The decision for the inclusion of additional requirements will be made in consultation with the Social Work Faculty. The need for additional requirements will be presented to the student both orally and in writing. Entry into field will be made once the student has satisfactory met all admission criteria. Denial of entry into field can be made when that admission would seriously jeopardize the integrity of the social work program, the field agency, the profession, or be considered potentially harmful to the client(s) with whom the student would be working. Decisions of this nature will be made by the Social Work Faculty.

Students who are required to meet additional admission criteria for entry into field, who are denied entry into field, or delayed admission into field and feel that their rights have been violated or disallowed, have a right to appeal the decision. Students wishing to do so will follow the appeals process as outlined in the MWSU Social Work Student Handbook.

2. Upon submission of the Application for Field Education, students will schedule an appointment with the Field Coordinator.

3. In most case, the student will be provided with at least three referrals to agencies for placement interviews.

4. Pre-placement seminars will be scheduled that students are expected to attend.

5. Once students obtain agency referrals, the student should contact the agencies to schedule a pre-placement interview. Students will provide the prospective field instructor with a resume at least one week prior to their scheduled interview. The student should give the Pre-Placement Form to the interviewer who will return it directly to the Field Education Coordinator. Students will also be provided with a student Pre-Placement Form that the student will complete, ranking their affirmative choices and return the Student Pre-Placement Form to the Coordinator no later than the deadline. If agencies find the student unacceptable or do not rank the student among their first three (3) choices, additional interviews may need to be scheduled. Field Instructors who rank a student as their third choice will be contacted by the Field Coordinator to determine if they will accept the student in placement.

6. Placement assignments will be made on the basis of consent of the agency field instructor and the Field Education Coordinator.

7. The student and field instructor will be notified by e-mail (if possible) or by regular mail, of the final decision regarding placement. Final decisions regarding placement are the sole responsibility of the Field Education Coordinator.

8. Students who have not completed their pre-placement interviews and have not returned the appropriate forms to the Field Education Coordinator within the following time frames will be delayed entry into field until the next semester in which field is offered.
9. Out of region placements (beyond a 60 mile radius of Saint Joseph, MO) are possible. Students wishing an out of region placement must discuss this request in their Application. Granting out of region placements will be at the discretion of the Field Coordinator.

Accommodations will only be made if you have discussed your special needs and they have been documented by Office of Disability Services.
CRIMINAL BACKGROUND CHECK: The MWSU Social Work Program will need an up-to-date criminal background check on all prospective Social Work students making application to field. These checks are done to ensure that students do not pose a risk to their clients, the school and the agency.

If a student has registered previously with the Family Care Safety Registry, the student can receive an updated copy of the background check free. The student should contact the Family Care Registry at (Toll Free): 866-422-6872 and request an updated background check. A copy will be mailed out the next business day. Once the student receives the updated Registry check, he or she should provide a copy to the BSW Field Coordinator.

If the student has not registered with the Family Care Safety Registry, he or she must go to www.health.mo.gov/safety/fcsr and register online. Students should click, “No employer” and indicate they are a student. The cost of the screening is $10.00 + $1.00 processing fee. The student is responsible for paying for this background check. Once a copy is received, the student should provide a copy to the BSW Field Coordinator.

Updated background checks will need to be provided to the Coordinator before the start of the practicum semester.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF POLICY AND PROCEDURES/CODE OF CONDUCT FORM

I have read and I understand the Policy and Procedures for Admission into Field and I agree to adhere to those policies/procedures. I understand that the Family Care Safety Registry check will be shared with the prospective field instructor, if requested and I grant permission for that information to be released to the prospective field instructor. I am aware that other information about my background (academic or personal) will only be shared with the prospective field instructor with this signed release of information form. I further understand that falsification of any information in this application, in information (oral and/or written) provided to the Field Instructor, and in information (oral and/or written) provided to the Field Coordinator will be cause for denial of entry into field and will be referred to the Social Work Program Director and the Dean of Student Development for further action. I am aware that providing false information to any faculty and/or field instructor is in direct violation of the NASW Code of Ethics, of the University Code of Conduct and of the policies of the Social Work Student Handbook.

Print Name                        Signature                      Date
This document is designed to inform you about some of the potential risks associated with the field education courses (SWK 480). It is the faculty’s belief that you have a right to be informed of risks associated with this aspect of your educational preparation. We believe that risks can be minimized with proper knowledge and preparation. It is your responsibility to discuss the safety policies and procedures of your agency with your field instructor and to follow safety precautions in order to minimize risks to yourself.

LIABILITY INSURANCE: Students are required to have professional liability insurance by the first day that they start field placement. This coverage is provided for you by MWSU.

PROFESSIONAL SELF: An important aspect of professional practice is knowing and respecting the limits of your knowledge and skills and avoiding helping situations that are not within your area of competence. Whenever you have a question about the handling of a particular case and whether or not a given intervention or referral is appropriate, consult your field instructor. If you are in a situation where you believe you have made an error in judgment concerning your work with a client, you should inform your field instructor of the situation.

AUTOMOBILE LIABILITY INSURANCE: If you will be using your personal vehicle in the field, it is recommended that you check with your insurance company for a clear understanding of your coverage. Ask specifically what coverage you have if something happens while transporting a client. The faculty also recommends gaining knowledge of the agency’s transportation policy.

OFFICE VISITS: Sometimes you may have a client in your office who becomes agitated or hostile. It is important that you discuss such matters with your agency supervisor early in your practicum to be informed of agency policy and recommended courses of action should such an event happen.

HOME VISITS: Social workers in a variety of agencies are required to conduct home visits. Such visits could expose you to health and safety risks. All home visits must be made with full knowledge of your field instructor. Your field instructor should know the time of departure and expected time of return. It is important to know whom to call and what steps to take if you should experience a vehicle breakdown. Do not conduct a home visit on your own when you feel uncomfortable or threatened in the situation. Return to the agency and report your experiences to your field instructor. Be aware of dogs or other household pets that might be a threat. Do not make a visit when the presence of drugs or alcohol is detected and do not make a home visit after dark. It may be appropriate for you to make visits accompanied by your field instructor or another agency worker. Do not take irresponsible risks.
AFTER HOUR MEETINGS: Some agencies have activities that occur beyond regular eight-to-five office hours. Be aware of the location and neighborhood, note street lighting, open spaces, and shrubs that might impair visibility. It is suggested that you always be accompanied by your field instructor or someone else when going to your car after dark. Don’t take unnecessary risks.

INSTITUTIONAL SETTINGS: Many agencies serve a client population whose behavior may be unpredictable. It is important that you learn strategies for handling clients whose behavior becomes threatening. Whenever you feel uncomfortable with a client, inform your field instructor. It is acceptable to have your field instructor or another staff person accompany you when visiting such clients.

ANGRY, HOSTILE, OR CLIENTS WHO EXHIBIT THREATENING BEHAVIOR: It is important that you discuss matters with your field instructor early in your practicum to be knowledgeable about agency policies and recommended courses of action for clients who are angry and who exhibit threatening behavior. Whenever you feel uncomfortable with a client or family member, inform your field instructor. It is acceptable to ask your field instructor or another staff person to participate in interviews and/or accompany you when visiting clients who may pose a danger to your health and safety.

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT: Avoid situations that could place you in a compromising position. Promptly report any sexual suggestions or overtures made towards you by clients, family members, or agency staff to your field instructor. If the field instructor is the perpetrator of these behaviors, report the incident to your field coordinator.

TB SKIN TEST (PPD-S): There has been an increase in the prevalence of tuberculosis in recent years. It is recommended that you take the TB skin test prior to entering the field. Some setting may require this test. You may receive this test at your local health department.

HIV/AIDS: The risk of exposure to the HIV virus is low in most social work practice settings. Be knowledgeable about how the virus is transmitted. If you work in a setting with HIV+ persons, insist on completing the same infectious disease control training that other staff in the agency receive. Remember to wash your hands after having physical contact with a client, regardless of the agency setting.

HEPATITIS B VACCINE: If you anticipate a placement setting where there is a chance of being exposed to blood-borne pathogens, it is recommended that you get this vaccination. This involves a series of three injections over a 6 month period of time. The second injection is given one month following the first and the third is administered 5 months later. Given the requirements for this protection, it is important that you begin immunization prior to entering field placement. The series of immunizations can be administered by your private physician.
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF RISK IN FIELD PRACTICUM

I have read the above items and understand that the field practicum does present some risks. I also understand that prudent choices and exercising caution can minimize these risks. I further recognize that it is my responsibility to become informed of agency policy and practices regarding the above situations.

STUDENT RESUMES AND
PRE-PLACEMENT INTERVIEWS

The student placement interview by the field instructor is an important part of the pre-placement process utilized by the MWSU Social Work Program. This process, in conjunction with the screening process conducted by the field coordinator, is designed to ensure a good match between student, placement, and field instructor. In an effort to facilitate the field instructor’s interview, students will be required to develop a resume that they will forward to a designated field instructor at least one week prior to their scheduled interview. It is suggested that students obtain assistance with the construction of a resume from the Career Development office. Information students may wish to include:

a) Student’s name, address, and phone number.

b) Career goals (long and short term).

c) Previous/current paid social work experience.

d) Previous/current volunteer experience.

MISSOURI WESTERN STATE UNIVERSITY SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM
SWK 480 – PRACTICUM IN SOCIAL WORK - - 10 Credit Hours
Spring 2013

This SAMPLE syllabus is a supplement to the policies as found in the Field Manual

Instructor: Pam Clary, MSW; LCSW; LSCSW
Office Ph.: 271-4341
Office Address: Wilson 204J
pclary@missouriwestern.edu

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
Field experience is the signature pedagogy of Social Work Education, under the supervision of trained professionals in the field of Social Work. This course is graded on a pass/fail basis and is taken concurrently with SWK 485. A minimum of 456 hours is spent during the spring semester in an agency setting. Prerequisites: formal acceptance into the Social Work and Practicum Program; a 2.5 overall GPA; and completion of (with a grade of C or higher) SWK 250, SWK 320, SWK 330, SWK 340, SWK 350, SWK 360, SWK 415, SWK 420 and SWK 465 and a C or higher in all other SWK prefix courses.

COURSE PURPOSE:
Field instruction provides the student with unique learning experiences available only in the “real” world of professional practice. It is an educationally directed program, which is carried out in an approved social service agency under the supervision of a social worker that holds a BSW or MSW degree. Field instruction provides a capstone experience for social work students, which affords them the chance to expand their knowledge and skills and to build their own unique professional identity.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:
At the end of the semester the student will be able to demonstrate the ability to perform at a satisfactory level the Field Education Learning Competencies required by a CSWE, which are listed below:

1. Identity as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly.
2. Apply social work ethical principle to guide professional practice.
3. Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments.
4. Engage diversity and difference in practice.
5. Advance human rights and social and economic justice.
7. Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment.
8. Engage in policy practice to advance social and economic well-being and to deliver effective social work services.
9. Respond to contexts that shape practice.
10. Engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities.
COURSE TEXT:
SWK 480 FIELD MANUAL (required)

COURSE PROCEDURES:
This course will utilize a variety of instructional methods, which will include “hands on” experience with a variety of social work activities within the context of a social service agency.

COURSE GRADING:
This course is an S/U course. Your grade in the course is dependent upon receiving a satisfactory rating or above on the course competencies, a satisfactory rating on learning contact goals, a satisfactory rating on course assignments, adherence to the NASW Code of Ethics, demonstration of appropriate professional behavior while in your field agency or on agency business, and completion of the minimum required hours (456) in the placement agency. Ninety-five percent of all items in each section of the general competencies and the learning contract must receive at least an “Average” to be considered passing for that section. Plagiarism on course assignments and/or removal from your agency for inappropriate behavior will result in an automatic failure for the course. Further disciplinary action may also be employed at the discretion of the instructor.

GRADING SYSTEM:
CR = Credit
F = Fail
I = Incomplete due to extenuating circumstances which have been discussed with the instructor and agreed upon by the instructor.
W = Withdrawal when MWSU procedures have been followed.
Students must receive at least an S on 95% of all items of each section of the general competencies and learning contract to be considered passing.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT:
See Course Grading Section and Field Manual.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:
Any student enrolled in this course who has a disability that prevents the fullest expression of abilities should contact the instructor as soon as possible so that we can discuss class requirements and identify appropriate accommodations. Before accommodations can be granted, students must provide an Accommodation Request Form from the Office of Disability Services. It is imperative that arrangements be made as soon as possible.

COURSE RULES:
1. Time missed in your field agency must be made up. There are no cuts in this course. Notifying the field instructor and the field coordinator of absences in the field is required. Field instructors are to be notified of tardiness to field. Lack of adherence to this procedure may result in failure in this course.
2. Students will spend four days a week in their field agency, eight hours a day over the course of one semester. Students will spend a minimum of 456 hours during the semester.
in their agency setting. Students who are unprepared or unable to meet this expectation will need to delay entry into field until such time that this obligation can be met.

3. Appropriate professional behavior is expected while conducting agency business and in matters pertaining to your placement. Displays of unprofessional behavior may result in failure in this course. Violation of the NASW Code of Ethics will result in failure in this course.

4. Students will follow agency guidelines for reporting to work and remaining on duty throughout the entire workday. In some settings, special client needs or agency schedules may suggest that adjustment in field schedules should be made. These adjustments are to be approved by your field instructor and brought to the attention of the field coordinator.

5. Students will participate in the development of their learning contracts.

6. Students will participate in regularly scheduled conferences with the field instructor. Students will also participate in scheduled conferences with the field coordinator.

7. Students will inform the field coordinator of any concerns or difficulties they are experiencing in their field setting.

8. Students will participate in all activities as assigned by the agency field instructor and field coordinator.

9. Students will adhere to agency personnel and programmatic policies and procedures. Behaviors that would result in agency employee termination will result in failure in this course.

10. Students will handle all client information with confidentiality and act in a manner consistent with the ethics, values, and principles of the social work profession.

11. Field students will adhere to the MWSU academic calendar. As such, students are expected to continue in their agencies through the last day of classes. Achieving minimum field hours is not a license to discontinue field activities.

For students who may be pursuing a second major/degree through the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, this course meets the requirements for a LAS WRITING COURSE: A course in which faculty assigns students both formal and informal writing in order to increase student learning, improve students writing, and initiate students into discipline-specific forms of written communication.

COURSE PURPOSE:
Field seminar provides an avenue to assist the student with the integration of theory with practice and provides an opportunity for students to learn from classmates concerning the current issues that agencies are dealing with in today’s social service arena. In addition, seminar offers students an opportunity to process any field experiences into a learning experience.

Generalist Social Work
Generalist practice is grounded in the liberal arts and the person and environment construct. To promote human and social well-being, generalist practitioners use a range of prevention and intervention methods in their practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. The generalist practitioner identifies with the social work profession and applies ethical principles and critical thinking in practice. Generalist practitioners incorporate diversity in their practice and advocate for human rights and social and economic justice. They recognize, support, and build on the strengths and resiliency of all human beings. They engage in research-informed practice and are proactive in responding to the impact of context on professional practice. BSW practice incorporates all of the core competencies.1

SWK 480 FIELD MANUAL (required)

The Field Manual will be available in PDF/Word Formats in Moodle. For those students requesting a hard copy, the manuals can be picked up and purchased at the Campus Printing Office (Wilson 112). Field Instructors and Preceptors will be provided an electronic copy or if requested, a hard copy of the Field Manual.

In addition to the Field Manual, handouts and readings will be assigned and made available throughout the semester. The weekly readings will be posted to the Reading folder located in Moodle. Many of the materials posted to this course site are protected by copyright law. These materials are only for the use of students enrolled in this course and only for the purposes of this course. They may not be further retained or disseminated.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:
Any student enrolled in this course who has a disability that prevents the fullest expression of abilities should contact the instructor as soon as possible so that we can discuss class requirements and identify appropriate accommodations. Before accommodations can be granted, students must provide an Accommodation Request Form from the Office of Disability Services. It is imperative that arrangements be made as soon as possible.

SCHOOL CANCELLATION POLICY

Missouri Western State University will close only in extraordinary circumstances. If the University is to close due to weather/road conditions, the decision will be made as follows:
Daytime Closing – normally the decision will be made by 6:00 a.m.
Evening Closing – normally the decision will be made by 4:00 p.m.

Any closing of the University will be broadcast on the following stations: KCMO Radio (81 AM, and 95 FM), KKJO Radio (105.5 FM), KFEQ Radio (68 AM), KSJQ Radio (92.7), WDAF Television (Channel 4), and KQ2 Television (Channel 2). If closings are not reported on the aforementioned stations, it should be assumed the University is open. It should be noted the University Administration will take several factors into consideration when making the decision to close the University due to weather/road conditions. Therefore, it cannot be assumed the University will close when area schools are closed. Notification will also be posted on Missouri Western’s web page.

Some placement agencies rarely close. It is imperative students check with his/her field instructor regarding the expectations of the student on those days MWSU might be closed. Students should not assume that they do not need to attend practicum if MWSU is closed, except for spring break.

COURSE PROCEDURES/EXPECTATIONS:

This course is a seminar class and will rely on a variety of teaching and learning methods to accomplish the course objectives. Some of these methods include discussion, presentations, field assignments, seminar assignments, reflections on readings and role-plays. Students are expected to attend and participate fully in all phases of each class and should be prepared to ask questions, ask for and provide critical feedback, and contribute in an informed and meaningful way to class discussion and in meeting the learning objectives of the course. In some circumstances, a student may participate in the classroom setting via Skype. This will need to be arranged prior to the start of the class.

Attendance will be taken at each class. Participation points will be determined via attendance, active class participation or Moodle activities. Attendance and participation points have been built into the total amount of points.

FORMS OF COMMUNICATION:

It is not uncommon for this instructor to email or post additional information pertinent to this course or practicum. This instructor will use Moodle to communicate or email using the missouriwestern.edu account. Please check the Moodle course SWK 480-01: Practicum in Social Work (CRN: 21125) regularly. Failure to do so could result in a failing grade.

Due to the nature of practicum and the instructor’s schedule, students and field instructors/preceptors have been provided the instructor’s cell phone number. The instructor expects students to practice professional judgment when using this number. It is expected that the instructor will be kept informed of any issues (professionally or personally) impacting the student’s ability to successfully complete a practicum. Email will be the primary form of communication outside of the classroom unless the student/field instructor/preceptor states and provides a phone number otherwise.

Use of Technology:
Using technology devices in the classroom can enhance or hinder the learning experience. The following guidelines should be followed:

- Cell phones and other communication devices should be turned off or on silent during class and lab unless indicated by the instructor.
- Electronic devices should be used solely for the classroom purposes such as note taking, viewing presentation materials or instructor-directed Internet searches. Using these devices for reasons not related to the class is prohibited.
- It is possible, that the instructor will limit or prohibit the use of any electronic device in the classroom. Students will be told this prior to the start of class.

COURSE GRADING:
SWK 485 is a writing intensive course and upon completion will meet the LAS writing course requirements for graduation. Writing assignments are both formal and informal in order to increase the student learning, improve the student writing and initiate students into discipline-specific forms of written communication. The BSW is a professional degree and at this stage of your academic career, it is expected that students should demonstrate mastery not only in practice skills but in their written work as well.

Your grade in this course will be dependent upon the mastery of the assignments. Guidelines and rubrics for these assignments can be found in the Field Manual. A grading curve will not be used in this course. The quality of your work, as judged by the instructor, will form the basis for mastery of the assignments (Mastery = a score 80% or higher). Students not meeting the 80% or higher mastery score will be asked to correct the assignment and resubmit within one week of getting the assignment returned. Exception: if the grade falls below 80% because of the assignment being turned in late. Once resubmitted and graded, the instructor will average the scores for the final grade on that assignment. In the event that the assignment still does not meet the criteria for mastery, the assignment will be returned again. Failure to master the required assignments will result in failing the course.

Note:
*Assignments are to be turned in on time. For each day they are late, your grade will be lowered one letter grade and then graded. The instructor must be notified in advance of any circumstances that prevent timely submission of work. Further, the instructor reserves the right to refuse any work not handed in on time.

Unless otherwise specified, assignments must be submitted in Moodle and as a Microsoft word document (1997 or newer) format only and students should be able to access this format too. Assignments will be graded and evaluated on the content as well as the quality of the work. This includes proper grammar, spelling, and punctuation. APA format should be used when necessary. Written materials should be typed, double-spaced in 12 pt. font, using Times New Roman.
Academic Misconduct:

Academic honesty is required in all academic endeavors. Violations of academic honesty include but are not limited to any instance of plagiarism, cheating, seeking credit for another’s work, falsifying documents or academic records, using electronic devices to store information for exams or any other fraudulent activity. Violations of academic honesty may result in a failing grade on the assignment, failure in the course, or expulsion from the University. Please see 2012-13 Student Handbook for specific activities identified as violations of this policy and the student due process procedure. This handbook is available online at www.missouriwestern.edu/handbook/index.pdf or you will find the University policy at https://ppm.missouriwestern.edu/documents

In this course, plagiarism on any written assignments will result in a zero for that assignment. Further disciplinary action may also be employed at the discretion of the instructor. Plagiarism is a serious academic offense and is also a violation of the NASW Code of Ethics.

Each student must complete and master the following assignments in order to pass this course:

Field Logs (7)
Self-Assessments I & II
Agency Presentation and Handout
Permanency Planning Review Team and reflection paper

Assignment guidelines will be discussed in class and can be found in the Field Manual and in Moodle.

Note: Course calendar is subject to change due to course needs

This syllabus represents a guide to the seminar course you are enrolled in, and care has been taken to assure completeness and accuracy. However, on occasions deviation from the syllabus is necessary due to unforeseen circumstances, or unintentional errors, or both. The instructor reserves the right to make changes as needed and students are expected to be flexible in the event changes occur.
THE LEARNING CONTRACT

A. Purpose

The Learning Contract is a means of formalizing the agreement between the student and the field instructor regarding the student’s learning experiences. It identifies and documents the requirements of the school and the agency, while facilitating the student’s values, skills and knowledge base necessary to become a professional social worker.

B. Development of the Learning Contract

In developing the Learning Contract, three factors must be considered:

a. The overall learning objectives and competencies for field instruction;
b. The student’s individual learning/career objectives; and
c. The student’s learning style.

C. Methods and Usage

An outline of a learning contract is included in the Field Education Manual listing a series of practice behaviors within 10 Core Competencies, some optional learning experiences, a column for evaluation criteria and period to identify if the learning will take place in the first 7 weeks or second 7 weeks. Students and field instructors should feel free to use this template or revise/add/subtract their own criteria for evaluation. The Learning Contract will be revised midway through the practicum.

- The student will complete all written assignments
- The student will design and carry out a special research project in his/her agency and will complete a written proposal and critique of the project. The student may use up to twenty percent or six hours each week to work on this project.

GUIDELINES FOR Bi-WEEKLY LOGS

A. Purpose

The ongoing written assignment for the field instruction course is the Bi-Weekly Log. Your log will consist of the Student Field Practicum Activity Log and the Journal Reflection Questions. As an essential component of the teaching – learning process, the log is the confidential record of the student’s educational experiences in the field. Writing the bi-weekly log provides the opportunity for the student to reflect and analyze what is being taught, how it is being taught, and the relationship between student’s learning activities and his/her learning contract.

The bi-weekly log is not a diary; therefore it should not contain a “blow-by-blow” description of the day’s activities. Rather, the log should provide a written account of the student’s professional growth process. Much thought and reflection must go into the production of the log. It is suggested that the student reserve the last 15 minutes of each field instruction day to make notes that could be incorporated into the bi-weekly log entry. At the student’s discretion, the log may be used for discussion during the conferences with the field instructor.

B. Method and Usage

The Student Field Practicum Activity Log Form will provide a summary of your activities for the two week period along with your issues discussed in supervision. This form will use a system that will allow you to provide numerical data, which provides an accounting of your practicum hours. Because these require a signature, students will turn these into the instructor in class. It is highly suggested that students keep a copy of the activity form for his or her own record.

The narrative portion of your log (Journal Reflection Questions) will allow you to focus on what you have learned from your experiences and how that learning relates to your classroom learning. This section will also allow you to discuss how you see yourself as a professional social worker and discuss any concerns or problems you are having in your placement. Bi-Weekly questions will be posted to Moodle.

Journal Reflection Questions should be typed (double spaced), 12 pt., Times New Roman font. Writing and grammar should be at college level. The average weekly logs will range from 2-4 pages. These questions should be submitted via the assignment tab in WebCT. The Reflection Questions should be posted by 8:00 a.m. the Monday they are due. Students should check the course syllabus for the specific due dates.

The logs will be graded based on the quality of the entries as reflected by the degree of analysis evidenced in the log, the thoroughness of the log and the use of appropriate structure for the log. A journal rubric will be used to grade the journal entry. All comments and questions will be noted by seminar instructor.

This Self-assessment should be a culmination of the practicum and is an integral part of the evaluation process. Please type and write in paragraph form your answers to these questions. The Self-Assessment II should be written using the format stated in the syllabus:

1. Do you feel you understand yourself and others any better than you did when you began this practicum journey? Explain.

2. Do you feel that you did your best while at the practicum site? Why or why not? What can you say about your work ethic? Is there room for improvement? What barriers (if any) do you think affect your answer?

3. Is there something you wanted to do, learn or experience but because of the setting, time or other reason, you were not able to accomplish this goal? Explain.

4. If you could say one thing to your Field Instructor, what would you say?

5. How has this experience affected you? Your opinion of the Social Work Profession?

6. Where do you see yourself in 5 years? 10 years?

7. What one experience had the most impact on you professionally? Personally? Why?
8. What are your thoughts as you are leaving MWSU and are going into the workforce?

9. As I prepare for next year practicum, what advice would you give the next cohort of students who are heading into the field?

10. Finally, what would you want the next the Field Instructors/Preceptors to know, be aware of...as they get ready for new students?

AGENCY PRESENTATION OUTLINE

The purpose of this assignment is to help you become better acquainted with your agency and agency sub-unit. This knowledge is necessary for you to understand the working of the agency and the function of staff in the agency. The following information is needed to complete this assignment. Superficial coverage of the material will not be acceptable for this assignment.

1. Name of agency and of the practicum sub-unit.
2. Agency and practicum sub-unit address/phone number.
3. Auspices of the agency; is it public, private, for profit, not for profit.
4. Agency and practicum sub-unit goals and objectives. First provide the agency’s mission statement and practicum sub-unit’s mission statement, then its objectives.
5. Functions of the agency and practicum sub-unit.
6. Services provided by agency and practicum sub-unit.
7. Types of clients served by agency and practicum sub-unit (age range, racial composition, gender, types of problems, economic status; use percentage in reporting this area).
8. Number of clients served by agency and practicum sub-unit on an annual basis.
9. Value systems of agency and practicum sub-unit, which underlie services to clients.
10. History of the agency and practicum sub-unit. How did the agency and the sub-unit get started and when? What need was the agency started to meet? How were the agency and the sub-unit’s focus changed overtime? Are the agency and the sub-unit undergoing any changes at this time? If so, what are those changes and what has precipitated those changes?
11. Geographic area served by the agency and the sub-unit. Give a description of the geographic area served: income level, housing conditions, economic base, population density, demographic composition of residents (age, race, gender, and education). What impact does the geographic region have on the agency staff and services (how does the region impact the services provided and staffing)?
12. Funding base of agency and sub-unit.
13. Organization structure of agency and sub-unit. Lines of authority, linkage between departments, organizational chart, board composition, how board created, authority of the board, distribution of resources.
14. Agency and sub-unit staffing: numbers, qualifications, experience, positions (number and kind), climate of the agency and the sub-unit, staff stability (turnover), educational and in-service opportunities and orientation provided in both agency and sub-unit, climate for social work in the agency and the sub-unit.
Each student will give a 10-15 minute presentation to your classmates giving them a “bird’s eye view” of the agency. Each student should design a handout addressing key items above items. Use your creative ability. At the completion of your presentation your classmates should have a clear idea of what your agency is all about and thus be able to make appropriate referrals to the agency, if needed. A grading rubric will be used for the presentation and handout. Use of audio/visuals is acceptable, but that cannot be your total presentation. Appropriate referencing (APA style) of material is expected. An organization chart should accompany your paper.

Plagiarism will result in a zero grade on this assignment and possible failure for the course. Be sure to refer to APA Manual regarding referencing of material obtained from personal conversation. Lack of referencing of material obtained from personal conversations will be considered plagiarism.

Permanency Planning Review Team Assignment

You will have an opportunity to participate in a PPRT Meeting as an objective third party reviewer for the Missouri counties of Buchanan, Andrew, or Jackson. “An objective third party reviewer is required to be invited to, and participate in each PPRT meeting. The third party reviewer is someone who is not responsible for the case management of, or the delivery of services to the child or the parents” (The Division of Support Services [DSS] 2011). Additional information can be found in the Child Welfare Manual, Section 4; Chapter 9; Subsection 6.1 which can be located at http://dss.mo.gov.

Sometime during your practicum semester, you will sign up for one day of PPRT meetings. For some of you, this may only be one meeting but for others, it could be several depending on the schedule. The dates and times of the meetings will be provided via the counties representative. You are expected to show up on time and follow any protocol(s) related to the reviewer.

Following your service, you will write a reflection paper on your experience. The following list of questions is meant to help guide you as you write your paper. This assignment will be graded and evaluated on the content as well as the quality of the work; including proper grammar, spelling, and punctuation. APA format should be used when necessary. Written materials should be typed, double-spaced in 12 pt. font, using Times New Roman. Please submit this assignment via Moodle.

1. What was it like being an objective third party reviewer?
2. How did this compare to what you were expecting to find?
3. What emotions did you experience before, during, and after the meeting?
4. What social work skills did you find yourself using?
5. If you were going to identify a theory that you have learned about in your courses, what theory did you see represented?
6. How beneficial was this experience for you as a student? As a social worker?
7. Other comments.

Because of the on-going need for objective third party reviewers, students may sign up for more than one day IF this is acceptable for the current practicum placement field instructor. Students are not expected to submit another reflection paper but this activity should be noted in the student’s Weekly Journal Log.

POLICY AND PROCEDURES FOR EVALUATION OF FIELD COORDINATOR AND FIELD PROGRAM

The evaluation of the field program and the field coordinator is a necessary part of ensuring the quality of any field program. In an effort to maintain and enhance the field program, the evaluation of the field coordinator and the field program will consist of the following:

Students who are in field will evaluate the performance of the field coordinator at the end of the semester via an on-line course evaluation. This information will be shared with the field coordinator only after grades have been submitted. Students will also provide an evaluation of the field program at the end of the semester through the use of various evaluation forms.

The second part of the evaluation process will involve the field instructors who will evaluate the field coordinator and the program, using the Field Instructor Evaluation of Field Coordinator form, at the end of the semester.

Lastly, the student will have an opportunity to evaluate the field instructor/preceptor via his or her Self-Assessment II assignment. The data from these evaluations will be maintained by the Field Coordinator. Students/field instructors/preceptors may provide feedback regarding the experience to the Field Coordinator, Program Director, or Chair.

FIELD SAFETY POLICY

The field program wishes to ensure the safety of students while in placement. To adequately address the safety needs of field students, the following steps should be observed when a breach of safety has occurred:

1. Immediately notify your field instructor of the incident, indicating what happened, who was involved and the type of injury sustained (if any).

2. If medical attention or police involvement is needed, the field instructor or designee will contact the appropriate parties to obtain needed services. The field instructor, designee or student will contact the Field Coordinator to report the incident.

3. The student will complete any agency required incident reports and submit them to the appropriate authority. A copy of this report should be sent to the Field Coordinator within two (2) days of the incident.

4. If the agency does not have an incident report, the student will complete a field incident report form. This report will be submitted to the Field Coordinator and the field instructor within two (2) days of the incident. The form can be obtained from the Field Coordinator or copied from the sample in the Field Manual.

SAFETY TIPS IN FIELD

Personal safety is a concern for all people and it holds special significance for human service workers. The following list of safety tips is not meant to be exhaustive on the subject of safety, but rather is to act as a catalyst for increased attention to this area.

1. Review agency safety procedures/material within the first two-three (2-3) days in the agency and follow. Always let your agency know where you are going and when you expect to return to the agency.

2. Keep your car doors locked at all times, whether you are in or out of the car.

3. Keep car windows rolled up enough at all times that a person cannot get his/her hand/arm inside of the car.

4. If stopped in your car by a person (no matter who), stay in your car with the engine running.

5. If you receive a package at your agency that you do not know who it is from, do not open the package.

6. When you are on a home visit, never enter a residence unless your presence has been acknowledged by the occupant.

7. When doing a home visit, if the door is ajar, knock and call out the client’s name. If no response is forthcoming, leave.

8. When on a home visit and you suspect that the occupant is home, but he/she doesn’t answer the door, do not walk around the house peering in windows or knocking on other doors or windows. Leave and try to call the client by phone.

9. After having direct or indirect contact with a client, wash your hands. If on a home visit, use pre-packaged towelettes or hand sanitizer.

10. When on a home visit, look before you sit in order to avoid sitting on sharp objects.

11. When on a home visit, try to sit on hard chairs rather than cushioned chairs.

12. When in a client’s home, do not partake of food or drink.

13. If you are in a situation that requires you to have contact with bodily fluids, wear gloves.

14. Do not attempt to pick up a client who has fallen – call for emergency personnel.

15. Do not give a client medication, even if it’s their own.
16. Do not accept money from clients unless you give them a receipt. The receipt should indicate the amount given to you, reason given to you and amount (if any) returned to the client. Always keep a copy of the receipt for yourself and give a copy to the client. Be sure to document this event in the client’s case record.

17. Before you transport a client, check agency policy to determine if allowed. Also check your car insurance policy to determine if the client would be covered in the event of an accident.

18. If threatened by a dog, do not run; make any sudden movements or loud noises. Stand still and do not stare at the dog, but keep the dog in your sight. Slowly begin to back away from the dog. Do not turn your back to the dog – or reach your hand out to it.

19. Know/locate safety zones in an area and use them when needed. Safety zones would be a school, church, gas station, convenience store, fire department, police station, hospital or any area that is public and has people around.

20. Do not stay in a situation where you feel threatened.

POLICY CONCERNING STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

The field program wishes to ensure that all students have full access to field placements. It is recognized that students who have special needs, due to disability, may require certain accommodations in order to participate in field. In conjunction with the Disability Services Coordinator, the field program will work to ensure that reasonable accommodations are achieved.

Students who have special needs due to a disability are encouraged to indicate this on the Application for Field. The Field Coordinator will refer the student to the Disability Services Coordinator for assistance with appropriate accommodations. It is recommended that the student inform the field instructor of his/her special needs during the pre-placement interview. In addition, the student should indicate that the University will assist with appropriate accommodations during the student’s placement.

College students with disabilities are protected from discrimination under the Americans with Disability Act (ADA) of 1990. Students requiring assistance from the Disability Services staff are encouraged to contact the coordinator at least two months prior to the beginning of the semester at 816-271-4330. The coordinator will meet with students to discuss their academic accommodations and will serve as their contact person for disability related issues. Services include but are not limited to the following; alternative testing, note taking, sign language, interpreters, assistive technology, and alternative format textbooks. The coordinator will act as a liaison between the student and note takers, tutors, and faculty. The Disability Services Office is located in Eder Hall 203N. INSTITUTIONAL SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY

Missouri Western State University is committed to the principles of equal opportunity and does not discriminate on the basis of race, age, sex, national origin, or handicap. The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has issued guidelines which treat sexual harassment as illegal sex discrimination and a violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights act of 1964. The university supports the intent of these guidelines: it is the policy of Missouri Western State University that no member of the campus community may sexually harass another individual. The following definition has been adapted from the EEOC Guidelines on Discrimination because of sex to encompass both employees and students:

Unwelcome sexual favors, and other physical conduct and expressive behavior of a sexual nature where (1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment or education; (2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for academic or employment decisions affecting that individual; or (3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an individual’s academic or professional performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or demeaning employment or education environment.

Western has adopted the following procedures for sexual harassment complaints. The University has established a team of trained individuals, appointed by the President, who report directly to the President. The team is responsible for (1) the hearing and possible resolution of sexual harassment complaints brought by students, faculty, or staff; (2) education of the academic community concerning what sexual harassment is; and (3) informing the University community that such behavior will not be tolerated.

Any employee or student with a sexual harassment complaint may contact a team member. Once contacted, the team will pursue a resolution with the primary goal of ending the offending behavior. On this level, the team will confidentially investigate the complaint and make a recommendation for resolution. The team may choose to take no action if (1) the allegation is believed by the team to fall outside the definition of sexual harassment, or (2) if the offended party decided not to persist and the team does not believe further action is necessary. If the recommendation of the team is unacceptable to the parties involved, if the harassment persists, or if retaliation occurs, then the team will pursue further action.

Further action involves the Dean of Student Affairs if the alleged harasser is a student or the appropriate vice president if the alleged harasser is a faculty member, administrator, professional or support staff member. The team may forward all relevant information to the appropriate person. The complaint as well as the alleged harasser may present relevant information regarding the case. The vice president of associate dean is required to investigate the case and make a recommendation regarding action. Such a recommendation could involve an early warning, a transfer, mandatory counseling, termination, suspension, or other appropriate action.
SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM POLICY

The Social Work Program strongly supports the University’s Sexual Harassment Policy, violation of which may be grounds for termination of a student from the Social Work Program and/or the filing of a complaint with the NASW Committee on Inquiry. Social Work faculty is available to discuss student sexual harassment concerns.

Field Education Practicum Sites

Student interns are expected to treat the staff and clients of their practicum agencies with respect and courtesy. Sexual harassment of such persons by a social work intern will be grounds for termination of the student’s placement, failure in the practicum course, and/or dismissal from the Social Work Program.

Although agency staff is not subject to the University’s sexual harassment adjudication procedures, the Program will not tolerate sexual harassment toward any social work student at a practicum site. Any reports of students being sexually harassed during their internships will be investigated by the field liaison. If he/she believes that such harassment has occurred, the situation will be reviewed in a meeting of all social work faculty members, who will issue a recommendation for action. Examples of possible actions include, but are not limited to: holding a problem-resolution conference with the harasser; reporting the incident to the harasser’s agency supervisor; changing field instructors; placement termination, temporarily or on a long-term basis; and/or reporting the harassment to the NASW Committee on Inquiry or other appropriate regulatory body.

INSTITUTIONAL COMMUNICABLE DISEASE POLICY

As a public institution, it is the general consensus that all students and employees are entitled to attend classes or work in a safe environment. This policy helps to ensure a safe environment and protect students and employees from individuals who may pose a risk of spreading communicable disease.

For the purpose of this institutional policy, communicable disease is defined as “any disease transmitted from one person to another directly, by contact with excreta or other discharges from the body; or indirectly, via substances or inanimate objects, such as contaminated drinking glasses, or water…” (Mosby’s Medical, Nursing, & Allied Health Dictionary). Reportable diseases included in this policy are those which pose a significant health risk to others. This does not include common infectious diseases such as colds and flu. These communicable diseases may include, but are not limited to cholera, diphtheria, hepatitis A, measles, HIV/AIDS, hepatitis B, tuberculosis and many others. All cases will be dealt with on an individual basis with this policy to serve as a guideline.

Reporting and disease outbreak control measures will be implemented in accordance with 19 CSR 20.20.010 through 20.20.060 and 20.28.010, state laws and Department of Health rules governing the control of communicable and other diseases dangerous to public health.
It is the responsibility of the affected individual to contact a member of the Review Committee when there is a concern regarding a reportable communicable disease. To ensure confidentiality, Western employees should contact the Director of Human Resources and students should contact the Dean of Student Affairs. In cases where there are questions regarding risks to others and the environment, the Review Committee consisting of family nurse practitioner with Student Health Services, the Director of Human Resources (for an employee) or the Dean of Student Affairs (for a student), the chair of the Nursing Department or an appointed designee and others as deemed necessary and appropriate, will be notified and begin the assessment procedure of the individual’s case.

An employee or student of Western who is diagnosed with any reportable communicable disease (as outlined in the Missouri State laws and Department of Health rules guidebook) shall be allowed to work and/or attend classes so long as they pose little/no risk of transmission of disease with reasonable precautions. An individual with a chronic infectious disease who is employed or attends classes at Western may do so under specified conditions considering the rights of the individual, yet not endangering his/her health, or the health of other faculty, students and staff.

Individuals with a communicable disease have the right to privacy and confidentiality. Only faculty/staff members who need to know the identity and condition of such individuals in order to perform their duties will be informed. Willful or negligent disclosure of confidential information regarding and individual’s medical condition will be cause for disciplinary action. Individuals are expected to follow the most recent guidelines of the Centers for Disease Control, including applicable universal precautions in cleaning and disposing of blood and body fluids. An individual with a concern regarding the procedure to follow should consult with the Environmental Safety Coordinator, the Family Nurse Practitioner with Student Health Services, the Director of Human Resources (for an employee) or the Dean of Student Affairs (for a student). For assistance with off-hour emergency/concerns please contact a campus Police Officer. Willful or negligent disregard for precautions by any student or faculty/staff member will be cause for disciplinary action.

Procedures

1. If any individual infected with a communicable disease is asked by Western to undergo a medical examination, it will be at the University’s expense. Refusal to submit to a medical examination may result in disciplinary action. Until a determination is made, an employee may be placed on leave with pay in accordance with University policy. Sick leave will be charged against an employee who is later determined to be afflicted with a contagious or infectious disease. Arrangements for students will be made on an individual basis, but could include charges being filed under the student disciplinary code.

2. The Review Committee is available to meet with individuals to address appropriate employment or class responsibilities.
3. The Review Committee will contact the St. Joseph/Buchanan County Health Department to determine appropriate action regarding potential exposure to others.

4. In the event of a public inquiry concerning a communicable disease on campus, the President of the President’s designee will provide appropriate information on behalf of the university.

5. The Review Committee will submit a determination to the individual and the President of the University. In making a determination the Review Committee will guarantee the legal rights of the individuals under sections 503 and 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation act.

6. The individual may appeal the determination in accordance with University policies and procedures for grievances, although the determination of the committee will remain in effect until it is overturned on appeal. In consideration of the individual’s condition/disease, the appeal process will be expedited if possible.

7. The environmental Safety Coordinator and Review Committee will have available safety and incident report procedures.

Willful or negligent violation of safety and precautionary procedures may be cause for disciplinary action. Legal Refs 191.650 -.695, RSMO.

Handicapping Conditions – It is clear that persons with AIDS itself (and, possibly, those with other manifestation of HIV infection) will be considered as having handicapping conditions. In making decisions, University officials will guarantee the legal rights of the individuals under sections 503 and 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act.

Confidentiality – All medical information will be kept confidential and will not be released to any person, group, agency, insurer, employer, or institution without prior written consent of the patient.

Access to Campus Facilities – No current medical justification exists for restricting persons from HIV infection to access the Student Union, theater, cafeteria, snack bar, gymnasium, swimming pool, or other areas.

Residential Housing – Decisions about housing for students with HIV infection must be made on a case-by-case basis. Medical information that does not indicate any risk to those sharing residence with infected individuals. There may, however, be in some circumstances reasonable concern for the health of students with immune deficiencies when those students might be exposed to certain contagious diseases in a close living situation.

Safety Precautions – Missouri Western State University will follow the safety guidelines as proposed by the United States Public Health Service for the handling of the blood and body fluids of all persons, not just those previously known to have HIV infection.

Harassment – As a result of the fear, anxiety, and anger that many people feel in reaction to AIDS, students and employees who are either known to be or suspected of being infected with HIV may be subjected to emotional and/or physical abuse. Missouri Western State University will condemn all such occurrences as intolerable and respond to them quickly and effectively. The University has a legitimate interest in the welfare of all students, employees, and visitors to the campus. In this regard and to the best of its ability, every precaution will be taken... to insure that an employee’s or student’s condition does not present a health and/or safety hazard to others. C.A.C.O.A will continue to meet periodically and update statements of policy and make recommendations as new medical facts become available. In addition, Missouri Western State University will continue to strongly encourage programs to educate all members of the campus community about the reality of HIV infection.
FIELD INSTRUCTOR PROCEDURES TO ADDRESS
STUDENT PROBLEMS IN THE FIELD

The following procedures should be followed by field instructors once a problem is identified with a student’s performance or behavior in field. Performance should include the student’s academic work, skill level, adherence to social work values and ethics, professional conduct, judgment, and dress. Field instructors should follow the procedures as outlined below:

1. The field instructor should first verbally address his/her concern with the student. The field instructor should clearly identify the concern and actively engage the student in problem solving to reach a solution for that concern. The field instructor should alert the field coordinator of his/her concerns and plan of action.

   A. If this verbal warning does not correct the problem(s), the field instructor should document the concern(s) and plans for addressing these concern(s) and a time frame in which improvement needs to be made. The student, field instructor, and field coordinator will sign this plan. A copy will be retained by all parties and a copy will be given to the student’s academic advisor. The field instructor will alert the field coordinator of the continuation of the problem and a joint meeting of student, field instructor, and field coordinator will be arranged.

   B. If the first offense is considered to be a serious problem, the field instructor will immediately contact the Field Coordinator to alert him/her to the nature of the concern. The field instructor will notify the student that the Field Coordinator is being informed of the concern. The Field Coordinator, field instructor, and student will hold a joint meeting to discuss resolution of the problem, unless the problem is so egregious that it should be referred to the SW Program for disciplinary action. Documentation of this conference and plan of action will be completed and retained by the student, the field instructor, the field coordinator and the student’s advisor.

2. If the field instructor has held a conference with the student, has actively engaged the student in problem solving, has held a joint meeting with the student and field coordinator and a problem continues to persist, the field instructor may request removal of the student from placement. If removal becomes necessary, the field instructor should carefully document the steps that have been taken to resolve the problem, clearly identify the nature of the problem, intensity and severity of the problem, and the length of time the problem has existed. A copy of this report will be given to the field coordinator, the student, the student’s faculty advisor, and a copy retained by the field instructor.

   Removal of a student from placement should be a last resort and should only be undertaken for very serious offenses or for repeated offenses for which the student has had ample opportunity to correct the problem. Student removal may be requested by any party (field instructor, field coordinator, student, agency director) if the agency, field instructor, or student is experiencing any circumstances that would seriously impair the student’s learning. In these cases, the field instructor or student will notify the field coordinator of the concern at the earliest opportunity so that a timely response can be made. If the field coordinator is initiating the removal, the student and field instructor will be notified of the action. A joint meeting of the student, field coordinator, and field instructor will be arranged to discuss the need for termination. Removal of students from field may result in disciplinary actions by the SW Program.

Students that are not in agreement with the decision to terminate placement, may request a hearing which would follow the “Appeal and Grievance Procedures for Field Students” as outlined in the Field Manual.

SUGGESTED GUIDELINES FOR FIELD INSTRUCTION ACTIVITIES

The overall objective of the field instruction program is to help the student achieve competency at the entry level of generalist professional social work practice. The student’s practice experiences and activities should provide opportunities for the acquisition, understanding, and integration of knowledge. The growth of the professional self should be encouraged and enhanced and professional skills developed so that the student will be able to practice effectively in any professional setting.

The Field Instruction Course Syllabus outlines the areas in which the student is expected to demonstrate competency. It should be used by the agency field instructor and the student in planning specific learning tasks and activities and for developing a learning contract. In some instances, experiences may be developed outside the agency, or agency policy and structure may be modified to achieve an educational objective.

The field instructor must make an assessment of the student’s motivation and capacity in determining the student’s work load. The quality and variety of experiences should be the factors that influence the number of cases or assignments given the student. It is only by limiting and selecting practice activities that the student and the field instructor can focus on educational objectives other than service goals. If the student has too many assignments, there is little time for reflection and analysis.

The student should be provided learning experiences in the following categories to achieve the learning objectives of the course:

1. Orientation to Agency Setting: The student should be provided with information concerning the agency’s services, function, policy and procedure, and resources within the agency. The agency policy manual and/or other material should be provided which fosters the student’s independent functioning on a day-to-day basis. The role expectations of student and field instructor should be discussed.

2. Activities with Client Systems: The student should have experience working directly with the client system. (The concept of “client” refers to individual, family, group, community, and organization). Learning tasks should include experiences in establishing relationships, as well as the professional use of self in working with the client system. The student should be afforded the opportunity to develop some professional skill in working with and evaluating entire family networks. Opportunities should be provided for the student to develop skills in working with groups of different kinds. The student should be given an opportunity to plan for or develop, and lead, or at least co-lead, a group. The student can develop skill in work with communities by helping to organize or become part of a community group working on a community problem, performing a community needs assessment or attending interagency meetings.

Direct experience should include handling cases from intake through termination, doing social assessments, developing case plans, carrying out specific interventions, evaluating interventions, and terminating services when appropriate. Students should also have an opportunity to perform case management functions with a varied case load.

Opportunities to obtain organizational skills may include attendance at an agency board meeting, staffing, peer review, task force or committee meeting. Examination or evaluation of agency policies/programs could also provide the student with organizational opportunities.

3. Problem Solving Process: Practice activities for the student should provide for the application of a problem solving framework in working with the client system. Learning tasks should provide the opportunity for the student to have practice in making initial contacts, defining the client’s problem, obtaining relevant information, making an assessment, selecting and implementing an intervention plan, and evaluating the results of the intervention. The tasks can be approached singularly or in combination and the student should be provided assistance in planning each phase of the activity. In addition, the student should be helped to understand the interrelationship and overlapping that occurs in practice. Since this specific content area is part of class instruction, the student will need the field experience to apply these generic concepts of social work.

4. Experiences with Other Agencies: Making referrals is an integral part of social work practice. The student should have experiences in making referrals to other agencies and in helping clients overcome obstacles in securing needed services. The student should be given practice in planning goals, approaches, and techniques to be used in these contacts. Students should have the opportunity to learn about services provided by other agencies and how to access these services. It is recommended that students be afforded the opportunity to visit key agencies to acquaint themselves with those agencies and their services. Students should be encouraged to provide appropriate follow-up on referrals made on behalf of clients with whom they are working.

5. Communication: Learning tasks for student should include experiences which develop skill in communication. Practice activities should provide the opportunity to record social work data, write letters, prepare reports for other agencies, courts, institutions, etc. In addition, the student should have experiences which develop skill in expressing his/her ideas, information, and suggestions to the client system and other appropriate persons.
BEHAVIORS THAT CAN RESULT IN DISCIPLINARY ACTION
IN SWK 480

The comportment of students in field is an area for critical review and may be a reflection of a student’s fit with the social work profession. Certain behaviors can be so damaging and/or disruptive to the field agency and its clients that they cannot be tolerated. A student’s continuance in SWK 480 is dependent not only on his/her academic performance but also upon his/her adherence to professional behaviors that are in keeping with the standards of the social work profession.

When a student is experiencing difficulties in SWK 480 efforts will be made to resolve the problem. If a satisfactory resolution cannot be achieved, students may be advised to withdraw from the field program. It is recognized that each situation is unique and may indicate different types of resolutions/disciplinary action. These resolutions may include, but are not limited to: appraising a student of the concern and working out a verbal corrective plan of action, initiating a written corrective plan of action, immediate removal from field, and/or disciplinary action by the SW Program. If expulsion becomes necessary, readmission into SWK 480 will be upon approval of the Field Coordinator. Students who believe that their rights have been disallowed or violated should follow the appeal and grievance procedures as outlined in the Field Manual.

Disciplinary action may be initiated for any of the following behaviors:

1. Violations of the social work code of ethics such as:

   A. Engaging in intimate (sexual/romantic) relations with a client, a client’s family member, or your field instructor and/or his/her designee.

   B. Acting in a discriminatory manner towards a client.

   C. Engaging in illegal behavior, for example, carrying or using a weapon, physical assault, theft, distribution of controlled substances, and aiding a client or coworker/student to engage in illegal activities.

   D. Falsifying documentation in agency records.

   E. Initiating physical confrontation with a client, client’s family member, field instructor, or agency staff.

   F. Exploiting clients or client’s family.

   G. Breaching client confidentiality.

   H. Engaging in behavior that would constitute malpractice.

   I. Engaging in abusive or degrading behavior towards a client, client’s family or field instructor /field instructor designee.
2. Exhibiting disruptive or harmful behavior.
   A. Being late to placement without notifying the field instructor.
   B. Being absent from placement without notifying the field instructor and field coordinator.
   C. Being late in completion of agency paperwork.
   D. Missing appointments with clients or field instructor without appropriate notification to the client or field instructor.
   E. Exploiting the agency by misuse of agency supplies/resources/time.
   F. Acting in an unprofessional or inappropriate manner while at the field agency or on field business, such as an inappropriate display of emotions or displays of immature behavior.
   G. Being under the influence of alcohol or other substances that alters behavior/judgment. Exhibiting impaired functioning/reasoning due to use of alcohol or other substances.
   H. Dressing in an inappropriate/unprofessional manner.

APPEAL AND GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES FOR FIELD STUDENTS

In cases in which a student believes that this or her rights have been disallowed or violated, he or she should pursue the following steps:

1. Request a meeting with the appropriate agency field instructor (if the concern involves the field instructor or field agency) to discuss the issue(s) to seek a satisfactory resolution. Notify the Field Coordinator of your complaint. If the concern is with the Field Coordinator, then you should request a meeting with the field coordinator to discuss the issue(s) to seek a satisfactory resolution.

2. If the student believes that a satisfactory resolution has not been reached at the first level, the student should request a joint meeting with the field instructor and the field coordinator to seek a resolution (if the issues involve the field instructor). If the concern only involves the field coordinator, then the student should follow the steps as outlined in numbers 3 – 7 of this policy (deleting the field instructor involvement).

3. If the student believes that he/she has not received a satisfactory resolution at the second level, a request may be made for a meeting with the field instructor, the field coordinator, and the student’s faculty advisor to seek a satisfactory resolution.

4. If a satisfactory resolution still has not been reached, a meeting between the student, the field instructor, the field coordinator, and the program director should be arranged.
5. If the previous step also fails to lead to a satisfactory resolution, the student may request a hearing before the social work faculty as a group. At such a meeting, the student may bring a faculty member from another department, agency field instructor, student, or someone otherwise able to serve as an advocate for the student to assist in the resolution of the grievance brought forth. After hearing the student’s grievance and any supporting evidence, the social work faculty as a group will make a decision. The decision must be written and mailed to the student within 72 hours of the hearing.

6. If the student remains dissatisfied with the decision reached by the social work faculty, the issues can be discussed with the Chair of the Department.

7. If the student’s grievance is with the field coordinator, the student will follow the grievance procedures as outlined in the Student Handbook.

8. Beyond the above points, the protocol for academic matters is as follows.
   a. Dean, College of Professional Studies
   b. Vice President for Academic Affairs
   c. President
   d. Board of Trustees

   For non-academic matters, a student should follow the procedures set forth in the University Student Handbook regarding the judicial process.

   FIELD PLACEMENT IN AN AGENCY WHERE A STUDENT IS EMPLOYED POLICY

   Students who are employed in a social service agency will be encouraged to do their field practicum in a different agency. A field placement where a student is already employed will only be considered if the agency is diverse enough to allow the student’s assignment and supervisor to be differentiated from the student’s normal duties of employment. The agency must also be willing to accommodate a student’s field assignments, educationally focused tasks, attendance at weekly field seminar, supervisory sessions and student evaluation. Students and the agency must understand that these students will be held to the same standards as all other practicum students. There must be a clear agreement and understanding of these requirements by the agency and this must be verified by the Field Coordinator. Any placement at a social service agency where a student is employed must be approved by the Field Coordinator.

POLICY AND PROCEDURES FOR FIELD ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEMBERSHIP

The field advisory committee is one mechanism that the field program has to provide students and field instructors with a voice in the field program. This input is vital in helping the program provide quality education and to keep the program informed of changing practice needs and concerns, which will impact the educational needs of students.

The social work field advisory committee will be made up of at least four agency/field instructors who are currently providing or have provided supervision to MWSU Social Work students, two student representatives (one traditional and one non-traditional), and the field coordinator. Membership of the committee may consist of more than the above stated numbers for each category. A maximum of 12 persons will compromise the committee. In cases where more than 12 people volunteer for membership, those who constitute the 13th person and beyond will be placed on a waiting list and asked to fill any occurring vacancies throughout the year or following academic year.

Committee members will be solicited upon the basis of interest and will serve voluntarily on the committee. Volunteers will be obtained the beginning of each academic year. Vacancies created throughout the year that cannot be filled by the use of the “waiting list” will be filled by the field coordinator seeking a volunteer. Although the members are obtained through voluntary commitment, it is expected that the committee member demonstrate active involvement in the field program through their attendance at a majority of field events. Membership retention will be based upon one’s degree of participation in the field program. Committee members who do not maintain active involvement will be asked to resign their positions.

The advisory committee will meet no less than one time during the academic year. Summer meetings will be at the discretion of the committee and will require agreement by a simple majority of the committee.

Decisions of the committee are considered as recommendations to the program only and are subject to approval of the social work program. Minutes of each meeting will be provided to all committee members as well as the program director.
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES FOR FIELD INSTRUCTOR MENTORING PROGRAM

The transition from practitioner to field instructor is not always an easy or smooth process. The role of the field instructor is one that requires more than just being a good social worker. The field instructor is expected to not only mirror good practice, but to help the student integrate theory with practice and to apply that learning to their practice. To accomplish this task the field instructor needs to employ appropriate teaching techniques that will help the student in his/her professional growth and development.

Usually field instructors have had few formal courses in education and thus, learn how to be field instructors through on-the-job experience. It is the belief of the field program that in addition to orientation and periodic workshops, the use of a mentoring program would help in training of field instructors. In an effort to carry out that belief, the social work program will offer on a trial basis a mentoring program for new field instructors.

Participation in the program will be voluntary for all participants. Experienced field instructors will be asked to serve as mentors to less experienced field instructors. The matching of mentors with mentees will be accomplished within the first three weeks of the semester. The field coordinator will be responsible for the matching process. The scheduling of meetings and the content of those meetings will be the responsibility of the mentor/mentee.

This program is not meant to replace or negate the role of the field coordinator. Rather, it will be an additional resource which will be available to field instructors. The role of the mentor is as a colleague, who can provide suggestions, tips, information, validation and support to new field instructors.

Periodic evaluation of this program will be carried out by the field coordinator. The feedback from this process will be sued to determine the usefulness of the program and to make the needed modifications of the program as indicated, and to determine if the program should be continued.
